Airships—For Japan.
Melons Are Ripe.

Fallible Judges.

JAPAN has placed in Great Britain an order for 25 passenger airships, costing $50,000 apiece, each able to carry 20 passengers. These British-made Japanese machines will carry two engines, developing 1,000 horsepower.

The Japanese are friendly and they are not worried over talk in the oil trial about serious trouble with Japan two or three years ago.

AND it is fortunate that Japan is so friendly to us. For if they ever started a non-stop flight their ships wouldn't come down. This poor little country has a few ships that can go up, but they can't stay up.

NICE melons in Wall Street. The Woolworth Co., capitalized at $100,000,000, hands 50 millions new stock to share holders. The Fidelity-Phenix Fire Insurance Co. gives shareholders 100 per cent more stock as a bonus, and there are others.

[illegible] sells at $175,000, new high price, as supposed to indicate confidence in a bull market.

Lambs are usually bulls, and when lambs come in stock brokers make money.

LORD ROTHERMERE says Britian misses prosperity by failure to develop electric power. "The economic welfare of the United States," says he, "is based more than anything else on the fact that she has 29,000,000 electrical horsepower in her factories, equal to 290,000,000 human workers."

IF YOUR little boy has talent, learn from Paderewski, who arrived yesterday, how the good judges often go wrong.

As a youth Paderewski went to a great violin teacher in Berlin, who said to him, "You will never be a musician, so you might as well play the piano."

And Paderewski played the piano, a great pity. The violin excels the piano as the piano excels the tom-tom.

EXPLAINS CLASH

Deposed Police Force Head Will Fight for Job.

Filing charges of unbecoming conduct, disrespect and disobedience, Mayor W. L. Fogo, of Wellsville, last night formally suspended Chief of Police John H. Fultz, as an aftermath of a verbal clash earlier in the day growing out of the mayor's dismissal of James Pugia on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor.

Charges To Demand Hearing.

The mayor's three charges are:

"1. Conduct unbecoming an officer.

"2. Disrespect to your superior officer.

"3. Disobeying orders given by a superior officer."

Asserting that he would fight the case, the suspended chief today announced that he would appeal to the Wellsville Civil Service commission for a hearing.

In the meantime both the executive and deposed chief are awaiting action of the court of appeals on the mayor's previous removal action against Fultz, which was taken up on error after Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence had reinstated Fultz. Prior to that, Mayor Fogo's removal had been upheld by the Wellsville Civil Service commission, which had resulted in the transfer of the legal battlefront to Lisbon.

Pugia, Twelfth street grocer, had been arrested by Fultz on Wednesday night and he was taken before Mayor Fogo shortly before noon yesterday on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. Pugia is one of the witnesses who testified against Fultz in his previous fight for reinstatement.

Despite the mayor's action, Fultz reported for duty today. He said he would remain on the job pending the appellate court ruling in the first ouster action, under instructions of his attorneys.

Mayor's Explanation.

In a statement issued today, in explanation of his action, Mayor Fogo asserts that: "The entire controversy started after the chief had picked up the bottle which had been introduced as evidence and there were no words between the chief and myself prior to that time."

Fogo points out that in a conference with police last night following the issuance of charges against Fultz, he (the mayor) issued instructions that he wanted all law violators brought in, and also cautioned patrolmen in respect to private homes.

Fogo's Statement.

The mayor's verbatim statement follows:

"While it has always been my policy, as mayor since the first of the year, never to rush into print and in addition declining to make statements in connection with any city controversies, I feel, after reading last evening's copy of the "Wellsville News" (published in Wellsville) which was represented by Mr. Davis, he, himself being present, that the reports of the events leading to the dismissal of Chief of Police Fultz were so much at variance with what actually took place, that a full statement of the case should be made to the public.

"When I entered the police rooms at the city hall on Thursday morning there were present Chief Fultz, City Hall Policeman Duncan, William Taylor and George Davis, of the "Wellsville News."

"I told City Hall Policeman Duncan to bring up the prisoners from the jail. The first case was Jim Pugia and the slip for him contained a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. The chief was asked for the evidence in the case and he produced

ACTRESS GETS $50,000 BALM IN COURT SUIT

Jury Votes Verdict Against Pittsburgh Millionaire.

ASKS NEW TRIAL

Anne Caldwell Wins Award From John W. Hubbard.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10. — Anne Caldwell, New York actress, was awarded $50,000 by a jury in federal court here today in her suit for $500,000 heart balm from John W. Hubbard, millionaire Pittsburgh manufacturer.

The verdict was returned when court opened here today, after 12 hours' deliberation by the jury.

Attorney O. K. Eaton, for the defense, immediately filed a motion for a new trial.

Neither of the principals was in the court room when the verdict was returned.

Terming the verdict a "completo vindication," Miss Caldwell told newspapermen she was going back to her parents' little farm in Chester county, Pa., and "start life anew."

Told Truth, Says Actress.

Miss Caldwell received news of the verdict in the office of Earl Reed, her chief counsel, electing to remain away from the federal courtroom where she had bared her soul to the world, where she frankly described from the witness stand her intimate relations with the wealthy defendant.

"I am pleased and cannot find words to express my gratitude to the press for its kind treatment of me," Miss Caldwell declared.

"It was not only the money that I was fighting for, but vindication. The verdict means that I told the truth on the witness stand and that the jury believed my story and disbelieved Mr. Hubbard's story.

Health Seal Booths To be Closed Here Tuesday Evening

Booths in the postoffice and down town stores in the Christmas health seal campaign will be discontinued next Tuesday evening, Mrs. Louis Steinfeld, chairman of the committee, announced today. The sale will continue three days a week in the theatres up until Christmas. The booth in the down-town postoffice will be re-opened the three days preceding Christmas.

The committee at the postoffice, consisting of Mrs. Harry Thompson and Miss Margaret Croxall, yesterday, collected $16.36. The collections, on Wednesday, amounted to $10.48, the committee being Mrs. B. W. Hunsicker and Mrs. Frank Wehner.

TWO OTHERS DIE

Three More Men Still Trapped in Blazing Pit.

FRANCISCO, Ind., Dec. 10.—The death list from the explosion in Francisco mine No. 2 today stood at 25, four new victims having been reported this morning. Forty-five others were injured.

[illegible] Cleaned, the bodies of S. J. Rohl and William C. [illegible]ff were brought to the surface this morning by a rescue crew that had been searching the passages of the mine since 5:30 this morning, under the handicap of withering heat from a blaze that broke out in the south passageway.

Believe Others Dead.

Another rescue crew went back into the mine to search for Claudie Wright, Emory West, and Walter Thomas, who still are missing.

With the finding of the last two victims the slight hope that had been held out for the missing went glimmering. Mine rescue officials said they have little hope of finding the three alive.

Fire which broke out in the south passageway filled the mine with a terrific heat that eddied through the workings. The blaze spread, interfering with the rescue attempts.

The rescue men are working under the handicap of almost insufferable heat in the workings. Two hours probably is the greatest length of time that a crew can stay in the mine.

As the fire swept the passageways it became increasingly difficult to carry on the search. After the halt at midnight only the one party which returned with Rohl and Ratcliff had been in the mine. The party which left this morning to find the remaining three was determined not to return until their search was successful.

He is alleged to have secured $100 from the bank upon a promissory note, bearing the name of George Shaffer and endorsed by George Wildblood. Both signatures, it is charged, were forged. Grimm was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police McDermott.

MRS. HARDIE, 85, DIES IN SALEM

Funeral Services Will be Held Monday Morning.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hardie, 85, widow of Daniel Hardie, and for 27 years a resident of East Liverpool, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Smeltz, 103 East Sixth street, Salem, at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Although Mrs. Hardie had been in ill health, her death, attributed to her advancing age, was unexpected. She recently returned to Salem after a visit at the home of relatives here.

Mrs. Hardie, nee Ryan, was born in April, 1841, in St. Louis, where she was also married. Her husband died 11 years ago. She was a member of the Catholic church.

Besides Mrs. Smeltz, she leaves the following sons and daughters: Daniel, Miama Beach, Fla.; William, Wooster, O.; Mrs. Edward Murray, St. Louis; Mrs. Elizabeth Nolan and Mrs. John Hulme and Miss Janet Hardie, all of East Liverpool. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Ellen Allen, of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held in the Salem Catholic church Monday morning, following which the body will be taken to St. Louis for burial.

CORNERSTONE LAYING AT NEW $105,000 WELLS HIGH SCHOOL IN NEWELL TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Laying of the cornerstone of the new Wells high and elementary school, being erected on the site of the old Kenilworth golf grounds, Newell, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The ceremonies will be in charge of Dr. W. T. Morris, of Wheeling, former deputy of the supreme council of the United States representing the grand master of the West Virginia lodge of Masons. He will be assisted by members of Chester lodge, No. 142, A. F. and A. M. Henry Ahrens, of Wheeling, will accompany him and take part in the program. The principal speaker will be Rev. F. H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wellsville.

The eight-room building, made possible by a $75,000 bond issue voted by electors after the Homer Laughlin China company had contributed $25,000 and W. E. Wells had given $5,000 and the North American Manufacturing company had deeded a site, will be ready for occupancy next September. The construction work is in charge of the Potters' Lumber company.

Members of the Grant district board of education at a meeting held shortly after the bond issue was ratified unanimously decided to name the school in honor of Mr. Wells.

History of School.

The following history of the Newell school was compiled by Miss Sara C. Baker, teacher of history in the high school:

"The history of the Grant district High school is a history of progress. If we turn back the pages of history we find that in 1912 our school was held in the Aaron building. But even then there were far-sighted men directing the schools, who felt the need of a new school building and so with Robert B. Brown, president, and Carlysle Aiken and Fred B. Lawrence as commissioners, the board of education began plans for a new building.

"A bond issue of $20,000 was approved, 282 to 69. The bonds, $100 each, were dated August 1st, 1912, and payable August, 1946, bearing 5 per cent interest. The architect was Cassius Metsch. The Potters' Lumber company of East Liverpool, Ohio, was given the contract. In order to have money to forward the school cause a levy of 12½ cents was voted.

"In 1913 the board voted a nine-month school term, near the end of the year they found they must discontinue the grades at the end of eight and one-half months because of lack of funds. Salaries for teachers ranged from $40 to $60 per month.

"In 1913 there were in the district 790 children of school age. Of this number a few were colored, so $10.41 each was their apportionment for their tuition.

District Enumeration.

In July, 1914 the board found there were just two boys in the senior class and so it was decided to send them to East Liverpool, Ohio, for the following school term. This year the superintendent's salary was increased to $115 per month, and the board of education also decided to build a new school house at Ellwood.

"In July, 1918 it was decided that the science department needed a laboratory so a room in the basement was equipped for this purpose.

FRANCISCO, Ind., Dec. 10.—The death list from the explosion in Francisco mine No. 2 today stood at 25, four new victims having been reported this morning. Forty-five others were injured.

Claimed [illegible] blackened, the bodies of S. J. Rohl and William C. Ratcliff were brought to the surface this morning by a rescue crew that had been searching the passages of the mine since 5:30 this morning, under the handicap of withering heat from a blaze that broke out in the south passageway.

Believe Others Dead.

Another rescue crew went back into the mine to search for Claudie Wright, Emory West, and Walter Thomas, who still are missing.

With the finding of the last two victims the slight hope that had been held out for the missing went glimmering. Mine rescue officials said they have little hope of finding the three alive.

Fire which broke out in the south passageway filled the mine with a terrific heat that eddied through the workings. The blaze spread, interfering with the rescue attempts.

The rescue men are working under the handicap of almost insufferable heat in the workings. Two hours probably is the greatest length of time that a crew can stay in the mine.

As the fire swept the passageways it became increasingly difficult to carry on the search. After the halt at midnight only the one party which returned with Rohl and Ratcliff had been in the mine. The party which left this morning to find the remaining three was determined not to return until their search was successful.

New Brighton Man Is Held on Charge Of False Pretense

E. M. Grimm, New Brighton man, is in the city jail awaiting trial before Municipal Judge Hanley upon a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. His bond has been fixed at $1,500 which he was unable to furnish.

Grimm was arrested upon an affidavit signed by J. F. Rigby, assistant cashier of the Potters' National bank. He is alleged to have secured $100 from the bank upon a promissory note, bearing the name of George Shaffer and endorsed by George Wildblood. Both signatures, it is charged, were forged. Grimm was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police McDermott.

By PAUL E. BROKAW.

COURTHOUSE, CANTON, O., Dec. 10.—The jury to try Pat E. McDermott for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, was completed in Judge E. W. Diehl's common pleas court here this afternoon. It included 10 men and two women.

MRS. HARDIE, 85, DIES IN SALEM

Funeral Services Will be Held Monday Morning.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hardie, 85, widow of Daniel Hardie, and for 27 years a resident of East Liverpool, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Smeltz, 103 East Sixth street, Salem, at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Although Mrs. Hardie had been in ill health, her death, attributed to her advancing age, was unexpected. She recently returned to Salem after a visit at the home of relatives here.

Mrs. Hardie, nee Ryan, was born in April, 1841, in St. Louis, where she was also married. Her husband died 11 years ago. She was a member of the Catholic church.

Besides Mrs. Smeltz, she leaves the following sons and daughters: Daniel, Miama Beach, Fla.; William, Wooster, O.; Mrs. Edward Murray, St. Louis; Mrs. Elizabeth Nolan and Mrs. John Hulme and Miss Janet Hardie, all of East Liverpool. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Ellen Allen, of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held in the Salem Catholic church Monday morning, following which the body will be taken to St. Louis for burial.

Laying of the cornerstone of the new Wells high and elementary school, being erected on the site of the old Kenilworth golf grounds, Newell, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The ceremonies will be in charge of Dr. W. T. Morris, of Wheeling, former deputy of the supreme council of the United States representing the grand master of the West Virginia lodge of Masons. He will be assisted by members of Chester lodge, No. 142, A. F. and A. M. Henry Ahrens, of Wheeling, will accompany him and take part in the program. The principal speaker will be Rev. F. H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wellsville.

The eight-room building, made possible by a $75,000 bond issue voted by electors after the Homer Laughlin China company had contributed $25,000 and W. E. Wells had given $5,000 and the North American Manufacturing company had deeded a site, will be ready for occupancy next September. The construction work is in charge of the Potters' Lumber company.

Members of the Grant district board of education at a meeting held shortly after the bond issue was ratified unanimously decided to name the school in honor of Mr. Wells.

History of School.

The following history of the Newell school was compiled by Miss Sara C. Baker, teacher of history in the high school:

"The history of the Grant district High school is a history of progress. If we turn back the pages of history we find that in 1912 our school was held in the Aaron building. But even then there were far-sighted men directing the schools, who felt the need of a new school building and so with Robert B. Brown, president, and Carlysle Aiken and Fred B. Lawrence as commissioners, the board of education began plans for a new building.

"A bond issue of $20,000 was approved, 282 to 69. The bonds, $100 each, were dated August 1st, 1912, and payable August, 1946, bearing 5 per cent interest. The architect was Cassius Metsch. The Potters' Lumber company of East Liverpool, Ohio, was given the contract. In order to have money to forward the school cause a levy of 12½ cents was voted.

"In 1913 the board voted a nine-month school term, near the end of the year they found they must discontinue the grades at the end of eight and one-half months because of lack of funds. Salaries for teachers ranged from $40 to $60 per month.

"In 1913 there were in the district 790 children of school age. Of this number a few were colored, so $10.41 each was their apportionment for their tuition.

District Enumeration.

In July, 1914 the board found there were just two boys in the senior class and so it was decided to send them to East Liverpool, Ohio, for the following school term. This year the superintendent's salary was increased to $115 per month, and the board of education also decided to build a new school house at Ellwood.

"In July, 1918 it was decided that the science department needed a laboratory so a room in the basement was equipped for this purpose.

Buyology

Not all of us are authorities on biology. But all of us may easily master the principles and practices of buyology. It is at once a science, an art; the business of spending money to best advantage.

One's inherent good taste takes care of the artistic side—the fashion element. Scientific merchandising may safely be left to the store that proved its proficiency. The selection of gifts and of things for dressing up the person and the home for Christmas makes buyology most important right now.

Prices are so reasonable and stocks so large and varied that buyology is once more a pleasant as well as an essential profession.

FOUNDATION GARMENTS AND THE MODERN MODE

The designers of Bien Jolie Foundation garments have evolved a group of corsettes exactly fitted to the needs of modern women.

The art of corsetry has known many changes since the heroine of mediaeval romance cultivated a "gentyle body and middle small" by means of a tightly laced gown and the modern prototype of the "privie coat by art made strong," though it may lack the splendour of furred red velvet and cloth of gold, ensures for its wearer a grace and comfort that our ancestresses never knew.

The active, athletic woman of today, with her trim silhouette and tailored lines, requires something different from the "whalebone prison" of past centuries. The rigidity and constriction of the old-time corset have vanished to make way for perfect support and restraint so subtle as to be impossible of definition, a gentle modeling of the entire figure, achieved by perfection of cut rather than by elaboration of boning.

The new Bien Jolie Corsettes are exquisitely fashioned of materials that are as supple as they are durable. There are plain and brocade satins and other fancy brocades. In flesh, peach and black.

Supreme skill in design and cut, meticulous care in every detail of manufacture, and discriminating taste in choice of materials have indeed made the Bien Jolie Corsette one of the most notworthy achivemnts of modrn corsetry.

There is a model for practically every form and our expert corsetiere will be glad to advise you and fit you with the corsette you need.

Sizes 32 to 48. Priced from $3.00 to $15.00.

Cornerstone Laying

1913	790
1914	870
1915	953

"In the enumeration of 1923 a total of 1015 was reported.

"Perhaps more important than all these was a drive for a new high school building. A bond issue was voted upon in 1925 but failed to carry. That year the board rented two rooms in the Aaron building and one in the old Nazarene church. Still the board remained undaunted, so with the help of public spirited citizens another attempt was made. Marcus Aaron, president of The Homer Laughlin China company, offered $25,000; W. E. Wells, $5,000, and the North American Manufacturing company a building site toward fulfilling the dreams of a bigger and better school system. With this as a start, a bond issue for $75,000 was voted upon August 3, 1926, and carried,—519 to 216. Peterson and Clark, architects, of Steubenville, Ohio, were employed to prepare plans for the new building, which the Potters Lumber company of East Liverpool, Ohio, is erecting.

Personnel of Board.

"From 1912 until November, 1913, the president of the board of education was Robert B. Brown; the commissioners, Carlysle Aiken and Frank Pittenger. In November, 1913 the following members took office: Austin Brown, president; Carlysle Aiken and Frank Pittinger commissioners, retaining their office until July, 1923.

Then Wayne M. Richardson was chosen president, with John Graham and Frank Pittinger as fellow members. In July, 1925, Fred Porter succeeded Pittenger.

S. T. McBride organized the high school as a third grade school in 1912.

"From 1914-15 the Superintendent was C. W. Stackhouse, assisted by Miss Mayme Cattell.

From 1915-16 B. A. Hall was superintendent, assisted by Ray Palmer, principal, and Miss Eunice Allison. In 1916, A. D. Osborne was elected superintendent, serving from that time to the present with the exception of one year. In 1916-17 he was assisted by Ray Palmer, Miss Eunice Allison and Mrs. Stanforth.

School Instructors.

1921-22—A. D. Osborne, superintendent; Eunice Allison, principal; Frances Newell, Virginia Marshall and Eva Gallagher.

1922-23—A. D. Osborne, superintendent; E. V. Huffer, principal; Helen Lewis, Virginia Marshall and Eva Gallagher.

"Miss Rachael Baxter has been primary instructor for 17 years, rendering invaluable service.

"County Superintendent H. O. Miller has at all times aided and assisted.

"Chalmer Smith is secretary of the board of education.

"The school board members, with the assistance of Fred B. Lawrence, have given much of their time toward planning the construction of the building.

1913	790
1914	870
1915	953

"In the enumeration of 1923 a total of 1015 was reported.

"Perhaps more important than all these was a drive for a new high school building. A bond issue was voted upon in 1925 but failed to carry. That year the board rented two rooms in the Aaron building and one in the old Nazarene church. Still the board remained undaunted, so with the help of public spirited citizens another attempt was made. Marcus Aaron, president of The Homer Laughlin China company, offered $25,000; W. E. Wells, $5,000, and the North American Manufacturing company a building site toward fulfilling the dreams of a bigger and better school system. With this as a start, a bond issue for $75,000 was voted upon August 3, 1926, and carried,—519 to 216. Peterson and Clark, architects, of Steubenville, Ohio, were employed to prepare plans for the new building, which the Potters Lumber company of East Liverpool, Ohio, is erecting.

Personnel of Board.

"From 1912 until November, 1913, the president of the board of education was Robert B. Brown; the commissioners, Carlysle Aiken and Frank Pittenger. In November, 1913 the following members took office; Austin Brown, president; Carlysle Aiken and Frank Pittinger commissioners, retaining their office until July, 1923.

Then Wayne M. Richardson was chosen president, with John Graham and Frank Pittinger as fellow members. In July, 1925, Fred Porter succeeded Pittenger.

S. T. McBride organized the high school as a third grade school in 1912.

"From 1914-15 the Superintendent was C. W. Stackhouse, assisted by Miss Mayme Cattell.

From 1915-16 B. A. Hall was superintendent, assisted by Ray Palmer, principal, and Miss Eunice Allison. In 1916, A. D. Osborne was elected superintendent, serving from that time to the present with the exception of one year. In 1916-17 he was assisted by Ray Palmer, Miss Eunice Allison and Mrs. Stanforth.

School Instructors.

1921-22—A. D. Osborne, superintendent; Eunice Allison, principal; Frances Newell, Virginia Marshall and Eva Gallagher.

1922-23—A. D. Osborne, superintendent; E. V. Huffer, principal; Helen Lewis, Virginia Marshall and Eva Gallagher.

"Miss Rachael Baxter has been primary instructor for 17 years, rendering invaluable service.

"County Superintendent H. O. Miller has at all times aided and assisted.

"Chalmer Smith is secretary of the board of education.

"The school board members, with the assistance of Fred B. Lawrence, have given much of their time toward planning the construction of the building.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1926.

Call For Allies In White Plague War

The City Federation of Women's Clubs today again appealed for East Liverpool allies in the war against the white plague, financed through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Indicative of the call to arms in this crusade to wipe out tuberculosis is the 1926 health message which shows two musicians flanking a central figure holding a shield, white, on, which is stamped in red the double-barred cross which is the symbol of the National Tuberculosis and Health association and its state and city auxiliaries.

East Liverpool seeks $2,250, of which 80 per cent will be retained for local health purposes, through the seals which are sold separately or in perforated sheets of 100—as government postage stamps are—for a penny a stamp or more if the buyer wishes to contribute more.

The money raised by the annual sale of Christmas seals is used to promote health work and the co-operation in it of citizens' committees, official authorities and the medical profession. Hospital clinics, public health nursing work, health camps for underweight children, open-air schools and information offices to show people how to protect themselves against tuberculosis are all included in the work of the Tuberculosis and Health association.

Such seals on your Christmas packages and mail show that you have taken part in a piece of good work and help to advertise the work to others.

Historic Debt Parallel

A little French town has been celebrating the arrival of Benjamin Franklin 150 years ago, when he went to borrow money to finance the American revolution. French newspapers have taken occasion to draw a historical parallel.

France, they remind the world, cheerfully lent the American colonies the money they needed, and then gave them liberal terms of payment, cancelling six years' interest. They suggest that there is a great contrast in the severity the United States has shown, in demanding payment from France in the case of her World War loans.

If there is a contrast, it is probably the opposite to what the French critics represent. When that six-year moratorium on the American Revolutionary debt expired, the French demand for payment was so insistent that the Colonies were obliged, with great difficulty, to meet the payments by borrowing money in Holland at the end of the war.

America lent France billions for the mere asking, in the recent war. Then, though there was a moderate interest rate specified, this country never asked for it until eight years after the war. During these eight years, France has never paid a cent of interest and never offered to pay any. And France is now fighting a settlement which cancels a far larger proportion of the interest on her World War loans than she concelled on our revolutionary loans.

As for "spending the money in a common cause," that is a pretty good parallel. The old French loan was made to the American colonies by a French king who regarded them as allies in his war against England. America lent France money when France was an ally in our war against Germany. If the scales are not even, which country has been the more generous?

Legal Sport

"The trouble with criminal practice in this country is that such extraordinary emphasis is put upon the doings of the lawyers. In all the important cases the issue as to the guilt or innocence of the men on trial is submerged wholly to the question of which contending attorney will win the game. They act, these lawyers, as if they hoped to get their 'H' or 'Y' by carrying off the verdict. It would be a good idea to set up goal posts in the court room and clear a space so that the winning counsel might snake-dance a little while before tearing them down. All that is needed in an American murder trial is a cheering section. And of course there should be arm bands and banners, frankfurters and peanuts."

Undoubtedly American criminal trials are conducted more like sporting events or stage dramas than dignified and dispassionate legal proceedings. There is so much attention paid to personality that abstract justice is often lost sight of. There is too much browbeating of witnesses. Lawyers assume the importance that should belong to the judges. It makes a good show; but is that what courts are for?

Western Education

Is culture, like empire, destined to take its way forever westward?

"I thing more people are going to college in California than elsewhere in the United States," says an eastern educator. "They are not leaving home to do it, either. They have ample facilities for higher education right at home. Everyone is interested in education, and it is talked about among all classes of people."

He seems to mean education, too—not athletics.

My Favorite Stories
By IRVIN S. COBB

DO YOU CALL THESE FUNNY?

Nearly always there is pathos in stories dealing with the poor, even such stories as are intended to be humorous. Only here the other day I was reading inan English paper an anecdote of a child from a desperately poverty-stricken home who had been carried for treatment to a London hospital.

A nurse put into the waif's hands a long glass of milk, and the child asked:

"How far down do I drink before I have to stop."

The little tale reminded me of one which was meant to be funny, I suppose, but which made my eyes moist the first time I heard it.

As the yarn runs a widow lived with her only son in a tumble-down shanty. One night after she had put him to bed a terrific downpour started. The water came through gaps in the warped shingles of the roof. One leak, directly above where the boy lay, spouted a stream directly down upon his small body.

The mother tried vainly to divert the flow away from him. Then an inspiration came to her. The night was stormy but it was not cold.

So she lifted the front door down off its hinges and propped it flat over the little fellow so that the drops splashed upon it instead of on him. From under his shelter he peeped out and asked:

"Mother, what do poor people do on a night like this without any door to put over them and keep off the rain?"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Thoughts while strolling: Collegiates on the loose. Yelling like Comanches. What's a radio evangelist? Fred Stone's daughter. A noticeable restraint in women's frocks. Skimpier. Whatever became of souvenir spoons?

And why do chefs wear those white caps? Crowds sweeping to a fight at the Garden. Who'll have a Hortoa? Wish I could get interested in that Hall-Mills murder. Revues that make skits of Pullman car smut. Chinese lucky stones. The big black cat near the Hippodrome.

Another reigning ingenue. Two dimples and a lot of luck. Those chubby proprietors of Tenderloin chop houses. Ashen women selling birth control tracts. The prick of a banjo in a hoofing school. Fattish women whose hair is streaked with many colors "sampling" beauty parlors.

French weeklies with the gaundy covers. Delicatessen dealers with white coat sleeves too long. Salads. Sliced cold pork. Onions. Pimentos. Dark upstairs rooming houses. Aproned women. Liver spotted faces. And the odor of stale grease.

A goldfish for $25. Baby wails. Chauffeurs picking their teeth. Slim little girls who stand shyly in doorways. Overcoats fastened at the throat with big brass pins. Toothless old ladies whose faces seem to fold up. So wags a world.

A gentleman who mixes his own gin gave a rather elaborate party in one of the decorative bazaars the other evening. He carried in advance numerous bottles of his concoction and "spiked" the gingerale generously. His guests drank one, two and three—and sat patiently waiting for an answer. The host himself was as much mystified. Finally he went into an anteroom and took a copious swig direct from the bottle. It was pure water. Discharged servants had several days before left him the surprise.

A Broadway bootery heralds: "Medusa wore them on her head. I put them on your feet"—which is the extravagant way of announcing reptilian effects of smart footwear. I also notice bags of ostrich skin—a diminutive sort of alligator skin and the slight lumps I assume to have been left when the plumes were plucked. Snake skin effects are also noticed in cane handles and in coverings for cigarette cases.

The passing of "Old Joe" the Broadway photographer removed a picturesque figure. He had $10,000 in the bank but would never pay more than 15 cents for a meal. More than 20 years ago he became obsessed with the idea that bodily bathing washed off the sparks of life and he never bathed after that. He lived a recluse among yellowing theatrical clippings, a few pigeons and his memories. He was once a bon vivant and favored patron of old Delmonico's. His sister had been the wife of the Brazilian envoy to Germany and he was a first nighter of distinction. He clung to Broadway to the last, being removed from one of its hotels to the hospital where he died.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Liquefying Coal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Liquefying coal, which makes possible the production of synthetic gasoline and other petroleum products, has been accomplished, thus recording another miracle in the program of modern science. Two German chemists, working along entirely different lines of experimentation, are said to have achieved substantially the same result.

One of them, Dr. Friedrich Bergius, has developed his process until it is now on a commercial basis and two plants for "berginizing" coal have been established that have a combined capacity of 1,000,000 barrels of gasoline and other motor fuels per year. Dr. Franz Fischer, the other chemist, while he is able to turn out gasoline that is just as synthetic as any of the gin or liquor that floods America in these prohibition days, has not as yet succeeded in getting his costs down to a point where his products can be marketed in competition with those of natural petroleum.

Many other chemists, in this country as well as abroad, are experimenting with the same end in view and it is promised that before the world's supply of petroleum is exhausted, the world will be assured of an ample supply of synthetic motor fuels that will cost little if any more than the fuels now used.

In fact, this experimenting has been going on for many years.

Dr. Bergius began his work more than thirteen years ago and it is claimed that he spent at least $6,000,000 to attain his end. For several years he had a staff of 150 assistants and employees working constantly under his direction. Dr. Fischer has been engrossed with the problem almost as long, and his experiments are said to have necessitated expenditures almost as heavy.

Few chemists have the financial resources or can get the backing to make it possible for them to carry on experiments on such a huge scale. Possibly that is why the Germans have succeeded where to date the others have not been able to report similar achievements.

There is no chemical formula for coal in general, as there is for water, alcohol, sugar, and various acids, because no two coals are alike. Bergius first collected samples of coal from all parts of the world and after he had studied them until he had learned all he could about coal, he decided to make coal in his laboratory, duplicating as far as possible the geological processes by which nature transforms wood into coal. He succeeded in producing several different kinds of coal, similar to those mined in various parts of the world, and after two years of such experiments he attacked the problem of making coal take up more hydrogen, which would transform it into liquid oil.

He first attempted to drive hydrogen at very high pressure into hot lumps of coal in a closed steel tank, but his product was nothing but coke because he had used too much heat. He saw that a way must be found to prevent overheating so that the hydogen would be taken up by the coal rapidly before coking resulted.

Accordingly he experimented with powdered coal, mixed with oil until it was a paste-like mess, and kept the temperature down to 800 degrees Fahrenheit. When he opened his tank he found a liquid that upon analysis proved to be motor oil.

In the commercial process as finally developed Bergius uses the cheapest grade of coal, and since he uses it in powdered form he buys screenings, which cost little, or cheap lignites or semicoals of no great value. Very little oil is required, and that is now taken from the oil produced by the plant itself. The mass in the steel containers is mechanically stirred while the hydrogen is forced in, and only a few hours are required to transform the mass into gas, liquefied coal, coal residue, and ashes. A dozen different products are condensed by careful cooling of the liquified coal. Pure hydrogen, which is expensive, is not required for the process, water-gas containing sufficient hydrogen for Bergius' purpose. The gas which is given off in the high pressure tanks is collected and sold for domestic or industrial uses, thus becoming a cost-reducing by-product.

Dr. Fischer in his experiments adopted the principle of making gasoline and fuel oils by combining carbon monoxyde gas with hydrogen. Carbon monoxide gas is generated from coal by the process used by every gas company. Fischer forced it and hydrogen into a steel container under high pressure and temperature,

WELLSVILLE MAYOR EXPLAINS SUSPENSION OF FULTZ

THREE COUNTS FILED AGAINST POLICE CHIEF

Fogo Issues Statement Regarding Fresh Controversy.

DEFINES STAND

Deposed Officer Will Ask Civil Service Hearing.

from a drawer in the desk a bottle with about a teaspoonful of liquor in it, it being such a small amount that it was necessary to turn the bottle on its side for it to be plainly seen in the corner of the bottle. I asked the chief if that was all the evidence he had and he said it was. I asked him if Pugia was intoxicated or if he had any complaints about him selling intoxicating liquors, to both of which questions he answered, 'No.'

Pugia Denied Charge.

"Pugia then made the statement that even the small amount that was in the bottle was more than had been in it at the time it was taken from his home. The chief, at this point, having been standing back of me, started across the room toward Pugia and said:' —— —— you, Jim, you have told enough lies about me already.' At this point I stopped the chief saying, 'Here, we don't want any of that,' and again being told that the bottle contained all of the evidence, I said to Pugia, 'Jim, you are dismissed.'

"At this point Chief Fultz reached past me and picking up the bottle, which was introduced as evidence, from the desk, placed it in his pocket. I said, 'Put that bottle back on the desk.' Fultz said, 'I will not.' I again repeated the request for him to replace the bottle, saying 'I want you to understand that I am still the boss here and I am telling you to put that bottle back on the desk. The chief replied, 'I know you are the boss, mayor, but I will not put it back.'

"I then told the chief, 'You are suspended for disobeying orders; you are through; your authority is ended.'

"There was further conversation between the chief and myself in which I told him that I was tired of him bringing in cases where there was not over one or two spoonsful of liquor and expecting me to fine them for possessing liquor and I would not do it for him or anyone else. Further, that all he had been doing since his return to work was bending his efforts on getting something on the different people who had testified against him in his case at Lisbon.

Cause of Controversy.

"I stated that I was elected mayor on a platform in which I had promised the voters of Wellsville that I would be the boss at all times and from the votes I had received, which was a majority of all the votes cast, that what I had promised the people was evidently what they wanted and what they were expecting me to do. I further stated that I felt the majority of the voters who had elected me were far above the one man who had appointed him and who I thought was one of the dirtiest curs in the state.

"The entire controversy started after the chief had picked up the bottle which had been introduced as evidence and there were no words between the chief and myself prior to that time.

"When the police reported for duty Thursday evening the chief was handed his dismissal in writing, there being three charges: First—conduct unbecoming an officer; second—disrespect to your superior officer; third—disobeying orders given by a superior officer.

"After Fultz had left the city hall the mayor conferred with the police, telling them that if they knew of any law violators of any kind his instructions were as they had always been, that he wanted them brought in. The police were cautioned by the mayor about their actions with regard to private homes and that it was not his wishes that private homes be molested unless they had absolute information that there were liquor violations committed. In this connection he read an order of Governor Donahey's which was issued this year and which was as follows: 'No raids shall be made (on private homes) until after charges of illegal sales obtained from two reputable sources. Heretofore raids have been conducted upon receipt of anonymous notes and telephone calls.

"In conclusion it is my desire to thank the many friends who believe that this administration has been doing all in its power to conduct the city affairs in the best interest of all of the people.

"I am sure that the good people of Wellsville resent the actions of a little group of disgruntled politicians that have been doing everything in their power to cause discord and at every opportunity to hinder the present administration.

"My resolves today are the same with regard to city affairs as they were January 1, and I expect to continue in every way possible to represent the majority.

"Sincerely,

"WALLACE L. FOGO.

"Mayor.

MRS. D. W. LEWIS GIVEN DIVORCE

Mrs. Blanche J. Lewis, of Wellsville, was given a divorce from Delmar W. Lewis by Judge Lones in common pleas court and she was also given the custody of six minor children, ranging in age from 3 to 13 years. In granting the divorce the court enjoined Lewis from interfering with his former wife in the custody and control of the children, and ordered him to pay her $12.50 per week alimony for the support of the children, beginning Dec. 15. It was also included in the divorce decree that he might visit the children at reasonable times.

The couple were married in Chester, W. Va., on March 29, 1912, and the wife stated that the defendant had failed to support her and the children for several years. He is a barber by trade. Judge Lones quieted the title of the husband to a lease on a building and land owned by Mrs. James Moore in Wellsville, at the corner of Aten and Commerce streets.

Sainor and Robinson Lead League Batteries In Base Hits

'Lefty's' Comeback As Hurler In Second Half Is Big Feature

Veteran Southpaw Recovers Form When He Joins Old Batterymate and Stickwork Improves Simultaneously; Pair are Pushed for Honors by Mike Cebula and Potts.

Regarded among the feature achievements of the past City Industrial League Baseball season was the comeback of "Lefty" Sainor, as a pitcher, in the second half of the campaign.

The veteran southpaw found himself when his old catcher, Robinson, went behind the bat. Even his hitting, fine as it previously had been—.382 in the initial period—reached .388 in the final scrimmages. Consequently he finished with an average of .386, just four points behind Robinson. Some battery that. And the hardest hitting combination in the circuit. The figures show it .386 and .382 respectively.

The next heaviest swatting pitcher and catcher would be Mike Cebula and Potts, of Chester, with .375 and .339 respectively. The latter would qualify with .907 and .985 each against Robinson's 1.000 and Sainor's .884.

Mike Cebula batted, despite his many appearances in the pitchers' box, just 14 points below McShane, just .25 shy of Eddie Bayley's mark and .56 below that of Hen Strobel. Indeed, Cebula, in 12 games of the second half batted .464, as against .293 in 14 contests of the first half. He was thus but eight points below his brother P. Cebula, who was also in 12 contests of the final intermin of play.

The record of Davis, of Wellsville and Victory Motors, also stood out. Here was a player who, reputed fast on his feet and a good fielder, was held to be weak with the stick. Yet he finished with .417 while in fielding his mark was .750. Davis hit .363 while with Wellsville in the first and .286 in the single contest of the first interim with Victory Motor, to which club he was traded, which gave him an average of .333 for that period. In the second he batted at a .467 clip, the whole giving him a mark of .417 for the season.

"Chappie" Finley, who in days ago was wont to lead the circuit in numerous departments of play, concluded with a mark of .358. His hitting improved 56 points in the second half when he swatted .389 as against .333 in the first.

Wilde, of Chester, qualified as among the league's best hitters with .369 for the season. Hower, he fell off 58 points in the second period when he clouted .33 instead of his .391 at the outset of play.

The heaviest hitting catcher for both seasons of play was Potts, of Chester, with .339. He, too, failed to connect as well in the second half when he made .281, in comparison to his .407 of the first section. Potts lost greatly by the throwing out of the game with K. T. K. on June 15 when he batted 1.000 with three hits in three times up. These would have given him .371 for the year.

Perhaps the greatest gain by any player in the league in hitting was made by Stoffel after being traded to Chester by K. T. K. at the beginning of the second half when he smote the ball at .438 as against his mark of .161 with the potters. The difference is .277 points. In the second half he was in 11 games and the first, nine games. His grand total was .294 for the year, just six points below the charmed circle.

Reed, of Wellsville, had the only perfect batting record, but he was in only one game. Meyers, of K. T. K., in nine contests, led the .500 class with .579; Wolfe, of Wellsville, in one game, the .400 delegation with .441; E. Bayley, the .300 contingent with .392; L. McMath the .200 section with .295; Kinsey of K. T. K., the .100 department with .188 while those below the century mark were topped by Ashe, of Laughlin, with .067.

Of the league leaders of past years, Buzzard, of Victory Motors, was in but five games of the second half in which he batted an even .500; Finley, of Laughlin, made .358 in 39 contests; W. Mundy .350 in 25; Simcox, of K. T. K., .318 in 27, and Herbert, Turk-Nash, .281 in 32.

Evans, of Chester, gained in his second half hitting when he made .365 in 18 games as against .259 in 11 contests of the first, a difference of 106 points.

Greene, of Chester, dropped from .279 in the first to .206 in the second. He was in but 12 games of the second half, and 21 in the first.

Les McMath hit for a mark of .302 in the second, improving greatly over his .288 of the first half. He, too, lost two hits in the game with K. T. K., thrown out which probably would have kept him above the .300 mark in the first half. He finished with .295.

WATERBURG, Conn., Dec. 10.—Jack Delaney, world's light heavyweight champion, will make his first start under colors in some months tonight when he meets Jamaica Kid, veteran negro boxer, in a fifteen round bout to a decision. If the negro makes the limit of 175 pounds. Delaney's title will be at stake.

According to word from the champion's camp, Jack has been unable to get below 179 pounds and must make heroic sacrifices if he is to save his weight forfeit of $2,500.

BAPTISTS COP OVERTIME GAME

Down Parks, 30-29, in Second Extra Period.

IN one of the most sensational contests of the league to date, the Baptists won a close decision over the Park Boulevards last night in a Church loop clash at the M. E. court, two overtime periods being necessary to determine the outcome. The final count was 30-29.

The Baptists led at the half, 18 to 15 but the count was knotted at 29-all at the end of the game. In the first overtime period, neither side scored.

The Parks were given two great opportunities on a foul try and a field goal that was missed and then Orval Parsons of the Baptists dropped in the foul that clinched the game.

The Christians and the Presbyterians will play the first game, beginning at 7:30 tomorrow night on the "Y" court, followed by the Lutherans and Methodists.

'PRO' NET GAME TO BE RAPPED

Association Will Release Legislative Broadside.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Professional tennis, the bugaboo of all gentlemen who parade behind the band wagon of the United States Lawn Tennis association as a labor of love, probably will come in for a legislative broadside tomorrow when the association's executive committee will convene in all its annual displeasure over matters in general. Publicly, the committee is likely to treat the so-called professional menace with profound and depressing silence.

In this way, it will plainly indicate that a condition which divorced it from Mlle. Lenglen, Vincent Richards, Howard Kinsey, Mary Browne and others during a single season is beneath its notice. Then, under cover of the locked door and the plugged keyhole, it will prove its indifference by enacting such legislation as it thinks will cramp the style of those who would make lawn tennis a gainful occupation.

I do not seem to understand just how a resolution is to alter the impression, entertained by some ill-informed individuals, that you can buy more loaves of bread with a dollar than you can with a loving cup. Still, the boys must resolute about something and there seems to be a general tendency, here and elsewhere, to view this particular situation with alarm.

The British, for example, will adopt on Monday, a re-written rule, which they say will "clearly define the amateur." The writer seems to remember that that was done some years ago by a man of great persnicacy. He characterized an amateur as a guy who wouldn't take a check.

However, the English say they have put what they are pleased to call "teeth" in their resolution and now I presume that there will be nothing left for C. C. Pyle but an arid and comfortless old age. He might take up the profession of dentistry, however.

Similar action, it is whispered, will be taken by the executive committee tomorrow. Then its deliberations will be duly read into the activities at the annual meeting in February, after which Charley Pyle will be given 24 hours in which to leave the country, change his name or shave the left side of his lip.

Meantime, official tennis circles are rife with assurances that competition in professional tennis is many years removed. It is claimed that not more than four men in this country, outside of Richards, Kinsey, Snodgrass and Paul Feret, can give a respectable exhibition in public and they refer to George Agutter's apostolic trip abroad as meaningless. No, they say, professional tennis can't hope for a foothold in America for some years.

That probably is the reason that tomorrow may inspire the executive committee to draft a rule, forbidding an amateur to play against a professional or of otherwise engaging in a technically outlaw competition on the plea that it did not constitute a match.

Huggins Seeks Player.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Miller Huggins admitted today that the New York Yankees were in the market for an infielder, an outfielder and two pitchers and that pending deals for the men in question might be completed at the American league meeting in Chicago next week. The outfielder was to come from a minor league club, Huggins asserted.

Yankee players who might be involved, according to unofficial estimates, were Aaron Ward, Joe Dugan, Bob Shawkey and Sam Jones.

Panthers Set New Attendance Mark In 1926 Campaign

257,000 Fans Watch Games; Good Weather Helps.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—A new record for football attendance in the trans-Allegheny Mountain section was established this season by the University of Pittsburgh, according to the figures made public here today by the graduate manager's office. The nine games played by the Panthers were watched by a total of 257,000 persons, or an average of slightly more than 28,000 at each game. This is believed to be one of the highest averages of any school in the country.

The establishment of the new record was made possible by the splendid weather which marked each Saturday here during the season. After the opening game with Allegheny college, which was played in a driving rain, every Saturday brought with it sunny skies.

A similar mark might have been made a year ago when Pitt opened its new stadium had it not been that rain fell every day during the fall.

The attendance for each game this season follows:

Allegheny, 12,000; Georgetown, 20,000; Lafayette, 30,000; Colgate, 20,000; Carnegie Tech, 40,000; Westminster, 10,000; West Virginia, 30,000; W. & J., 45,000; Penn State, 50,000.

EKLUND KEEPS HIS MAT TITLE

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Industrial and motor stocks moved forward confidently in the early trading today under the leadership of United States steel, which exhibited an unusually firm tone for the period just prior to the publication of its monthly unfilled tonnage report. The low-priced motor shares, led by Hupp, Pierce Arrow and Dodge, sold higher, while the railroad "coalers" were active at Thursday's closing prices, with the exception of Mid-Continent oil stocks moved lower.

Call money renewals were posted at 4½ per cent. Commodity markets were slightly reactionary, with cotton and grain fractionally lower.

Lehigh Valley moved up 2½ to a new high at 138-8, while Atchison was boosted 2½ to 160; Atlantic Coast Line 2, and New York Central 2.

Buying of Mid-Continent oil was based on reports that the directors would soon restore the dividend on the common shares. Specialty stocks were under profit taking. Mercantile stocks continued to give a good account of themselves, with Montgomery Ward in the lead.

Crucible steel spurted to 81; in anticipation of an early announcement regarding an extra cash dividend.

TWO MEN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Nick Stewart's Car Plunges Over Calcutta Road Embankment.

Nick Stewart, of the Hookstown road, near Chester, treasurer of the Rosenberg Dairy Products company, Wellsville, suffered a laceration to his forehead, while O. O. Allison, Chester, also employed at the same place, received a minor injury to his leg when a sedan driven by Stewart went over an embankment on the Calcutta-East Liverpool road, near the J. A. Bryan resident, at 6:30 o'clock last night.

Stewart was enroute south when he met C. H. Walker, St. Clair avenue, driving another sedan, coming north. Stewart's car skidded on the icy road, crashed into the Walker machine and then plunged over the embankment, overturning on its side.

Miller's ambulance was summoned, and Stewart was removed to the City hospital where he was attended by Dr. Albert J. Michels. He was discharged today. Allison returned to his home.

The McElravy wreck car removed the disabled machine, belonging to the dairy company, to a garage. Two fenders were demolished and the front axle bent.

McDermott Jury Sworn

Now every NEW EDISON is a FULL VOLUME Instrument

THOMAS A. EDISON has given owners of the New Edison all the advantages of his marvelous FULL VOLUME invention for the insignificant cost of a mere accessory. Your New Edison is just as modern as any phonograph; in fact, it is a distinct advancement—two phonographs in one. Living room and ball room volume! Variety, versatility, untiring charm! Your New Edison is twice as entertaining, twice as useful.

The transformation from modulated Re-Creation to FULL VOLUME is made as easily as changing a record. You're playing a snappy dance number for the bunch. Eager young feet are just "rarin' to go"—but you've found out before that the usual phonograph music hasn't volume enough to drown out the shuffling of feet—then you remember the DANCE ATTACHMENT—it takes just two shakes to slip it on in place of the regular reproducer. Oh boy! Hear that orchestra zipping it up, get that saxophone duet, listen to the traps, and can't that fellow pick a mean banjo?

You actually forget all about the Edison—you've got the orchestra right in your home. Let joy be unconfined. You can't lose this music. That's the combination of Edison tone quality and FULL VOLUME Re-Creation. Just this simple inexpensive attachment transforms your New Edison into a NEW-er music maker.

You can scarce believe it until you hear it. Demonstrations in our store every day. Come in now and hear it.

Rockford, Ill., Court Clerk Arrested at Ashtabula, Ohio

ASHTABULA, O., Dec. 10.—Henry Rasmussen, whose term of office as clerk of the probate court at Rockford, Ill., expired last Tuesday, was arrested here yesterday and is being held pending the arrival of Illinois officers.

Rasmussen at first gave the name of H. Russell. In his pockets, police say, were various clippings from Rockford papers which told of alleged shortages in the probate clerk's accounts. He told newspapermen that he had come to Ashtabula for the purpose of applying for the position of city manager and denied any irregularities existed in his accounts.

Mellett's "True Friend" is Excused From Jury Duty

COURT HOUSE, CANTON, O., Dec. 10.— "true friend" of the murdered Don R. Mellett yesterday asked to be excused from jury duty during the trial of Patrick E. McDermott because he "knew and admired" the slain man.

"He was my friend, I could not listen impartially to the evidence in this case."

"Perhaps I am prejudiced—but I knew Mellett," he added later.

He was excused from duty.

Flood Spares Bible and Radio.

When Mr. and Mrs. George H. Thompson of Leroy, Kan., returned to their home after a flood they found everything innundated excepting the family Bible and the radio set. The book and receiving set were side by side on a little table which floated with the floor waters and stayed right side up with remarkable equilibrium. The Bible was not even wet.

Haskin's Letter

First Results Disappointing.

The first results were disappointing in that no gasoline or petroleum-like liquid was found in the container, but instead an oily mixture, which Fischer called synthol and which contained a number of alcohols, one of them being menthol, or wood alcohol. With alcohols derived from this synthol he found he could drive an automobile, and he claimed the fuel to be superior to gasoline because it did not "knock."

Dr. Fischer continued his experiments and at the recent international conference in Pittsburgh he was able to announce that he had at last succeeded in synthetizing from carbon monoxide and hydrogen practically all the oils, motor fuels, and liquids and solid compounds ordinarily derived from petroleum. Ultimately he expects to succeed in making these petroleum products on a commercial basis. He also makes the interesting prediction that the time will come when gas companies will make gasoline during their dull season in the summertime when there is not the demand for gas that there is during the cold months.

Aside from the efforts that are being made to liquefy coal, numerous chemists and engineers are experimenting with low temperature coking processes with the idea of perfecting processes for the utilization of bituminous coal to the maximum degree—extracting all its varied by-products and developing what will be the perfect coal fuel.

This perfect fuel will be better than anthracite, it is predicted, and will be like carbonized cakes of solid heat. It will be black, which will be its chief resemblance to coal. It will be smokeless, and it will be perfectly combustible, leaving no clinkers and little ashes. Being made in uniform sizes, the maximum quantity can be transported or stored in the minimum space.

In making it the principal by-product is coal tar, which is used in making innumerable things, ranging from dyes and medicines to perfumes and explosives, but so much of a ton of coal is turned into the tar that the present market can not absorb it. This means that the so-called perfect manufactured coal fuel can not be commercialized until the present uses of the tar have been greatly extended.

But that this problem will be solved is not doubted by scientists. Possibly a low cost method of "cracking" the tar into motor fuel will be evolved. Perhaps some solution as yet unthought of will be worked out.

WELLSVILLE MAYOR EXPLAINS SUSPENSION OF FULTZ

THREE COUNTS FILED AGAINST POLICE CHIEF

Fogo Issues Statement Regarding Fresh Controversy.

DEFINES STAND

Deposed Officer Will Ask Civil Service Hearing.

from a drawer in the desk a bottle with about a teaspoonful of liquor in it, it being such a small amount that it was necessary to turn the bottle on its side for it to be plainly seen in the corner of the bottle. I asked the chief if that was all the evidence he had and he said it was. I asked him if Pugia was intoxicated or if he had any complaints about him selling intoxicating liquors, to both of which questions he answered, 'No.'

Pugia Denied Charge.

"Pugia then made the statement that even the small amount that was in the bottle was more than had been in it at the time it was taken from his home. The chief, at this point, having been standing back of me, started across the room toward Pugia and said: '—— —— you, Jim, you have told enough lies about me already.' At this point I stopped the chief saying, 'Here, we don't want any of that,' and again being told that the bottle contained all of the evidence, I said to Pugia, 'Jim, you are dismissed.'

"At this point Chief Fultz reached past me and picking up the bottle, which was introduced as evidence, from the desk, placed it in his pocket. I said, 'Put that bottle back on the desk.' Fultz said, 'I will not.' I again repeated the request for him to replace the bottle, saying 'I want you to understand that I am still the boss here and I am telling you to put that bottle back on the desk. The chief replied, 'I know you are the boss, mayor, but I will not put it back.'

"I then told the chief, 'You are suspended for disobeying orders; you are through; your authority is ended.'

"There was further conversation between the chief and myself in which I told him that I was tired of him bringing in cases where there was not over one or two spoonsful of liquor and expecting me to fine them for possessing liquor and I would not do it for him or anyone else. Further, that all he had been doing since his return to work was bending his efforts on getting something on the different people who had testified against him in his case at Lisbon.

Cause of Controversy.

"I stated that I was elected mayor on a platform in which I had promised the voters of Wellsville that I would be the boss at all times and from the votes I had received, which was a majority of all the votes cast, that what I had promised the people was evidently what they wanted and what they were expecting me to do. I further stated that I felt the majority of the voters who had elected me were far above the one man who had appointed him and who I thought was one of the dirtiest curs in the state.

"The entire controversy started after the chief had picked up the bottle which had been introduced as evidence and there were no words between the chief and myself prior to that time.

"When the police reported for duty Thursday evening the chief was handed his dismissal in writing, there being three charges: First—conduct unbecoming an officer; second—disrespect to your superior officer; third—disobeying orders given by a superior officer.

"After Fultz had left the city hall the mayor conferred with the police, telling them that if they knew of any law violators of any kind his instructions were as they had always been, that he wanted them brought in. The police were cautioned by the mayor about their actions with regard to private homes and that it was not his wishes that private homes be molested unless they had absolute information that there were liquor violations committed. In this connection he read an order of Governor Donahey's which was issued this year and which was as follows: 'No raids shall be made (on private homes) until after charges of illegal sales obtained from two reputable sources. Heretofore raids have been conducted upon receipt of anonymous notes and telephone calls.

"In conclusion it is my desire to thank the many friends who believe that this administration has been doing all in its power to conduct the city affairs in the best interest of all of the people.

"I am sure that the good people of Wellsville resent the actions of a little group of disgruntled politicians that have been doing everything in their power to cause discord and at every opportunity to hinder the present administration.

"My resolves today are the same with regard to city affairs as they were January 1, and I expect to continue in every way possible to represent the majority.

"Sincerely,

"WALLACE L. FOGO,

"Mayor.

MRS. D. W. LEWIS GIVEN DIVORCE

Mrs. Blanche J. Lewis, of Wellsville, was given a divorce from Delmar W. Lewis by Judge Lones in common pleas court and she was also given the custody of six minor children, ranging in age from 3 to 13 years. In granting the divorce the court enjoined Lewis from interfering with his former wife in the custody and control of the children, and ordered him to pay her $12.50 per week alimony for the support of the children, beginning Dec. 15. It was also included in the divorce decree that he might visit the children at reasonable times.

The couple were married in Chester, W. Va., on March 28, 1912, and the wife stated that the defendant had failed to support her and the children for several years. He is a barber by trade. Judge Lones quieted the title of the husband to a lease on a building and land owned by Mrs. James Moore in Wellsville, at the corner of Aten and Commerce streets.

Glenn Drake, Popular Tenor, In Concert Here Tuesday

Civic Music Society Artist Believes His Duty to Public Transcends all Else.

Glenn Drake, popular tenor, who will appear at the Ceramic theatre Tuesday evening in a Civic Music society concert, believes that an artist's duty to the public transcends all else.

"It is no more than right," said he, "when the public are paying their good money to hear you, to give them the very best that is in you. You never can tell who will be in your audience. It may be that some important manager is passing through and goes to hear you out of curiosity. His opinion of your work is formed then, and not by anything you may do later, so it is never safe to slight your audience.

"The first, and to my mind, the most important requirement in keeping fit is plenty of sleep and relaxation, and I see to it that I have both. Simple food and plenty of exercise is the thing, and with these precepts in mind you need never disappoint an audience, for if you follow them, you will be healthy and wise, to paraphrase the old saying.

Often I am asked, 'When do you do your best work? How to you keep your voice in condition?' My answer is "routine." I have a certain schedule and stick to it. I spend my mornings in scale practice to keep the voice flexible. In the afternoon my accompanist comes at a certain hour and we go over my songs and work on any special program that I may be preparing to sing.

"One hour each day I devote to the study of languages for it is important, if you are singing French, German or Italian, not only to be able to pronounce the words correctly, but to be familiar enough with the language to understand the meaning of the text. It is astonishing what you can accomplish in an hour, if you are consistent and keep at it every day. I have a fair understanding of the three languages and can speak them, and I have done that by giving an hour each day to it.

"If I am going to sing, I manage to get through with my routine early and then go to a movie, for there you can be quiet and yet your mind has a distraction. My art means everything to me, and I would not feel satisfied to let even a day go by without adding something to my store."

Rose Tree 1,000 Years Old.

At Hildesheim, Germany, is a rose tree covering one side of the parish yard, that by the records of the church is over a thousand years old The roots are visible in the crypt of the church and the church records tells of the pruning, trimming and care of the tree over the long period.

Spent Fortune in Search

"I spent $1,800 in seven years treating with physicians, some specialists costing me $10 a visit, only to at last say nothing could be done for me, that I had cancer or ulcers of the stomach. I suffered awful pains in my stomach, but after taking a few doses of MAYR'S these all disappeared and for three years am feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

BOND WINNER IN COURT TEST

John C. Bond, deposed state auditor, appeared yesterday before Judge H. K. Black in court at Charleston and demanded a bill of particulars of the 54 counts of embezzlement and larceny and got an agreement to furnish the information without a formal court order.

The formal demand for particulars, a 26-page document, was the subject of a lively argument in which Mr. George, prosecutive attorney, Attorney Frank C. Burdette and Assistant Attorney General R. A. Blessing took part. It asked whether the alternate embezzlement and larceny counts in indictment No. 1 referred to drafts or warrants alleged to have been drawn without authority, and if so for the name of the payee, the date and number of each warrant and the indorsements. Mr. George in offering it declared there was no desire to delay trial.

Mr. Burdette pointed out that the indictments itself was drawn under a statute permitting the naming of a series of alleged embezzlements within a period of six months.

Blessing argued that from the governor's hearings on the same charges Mr. Bond had full information of the details. Asked by Judge Black how the court had that information, Mr. Blessing said it was a matter of public knowledge that Mr. Burdette's uggestion that the particulars would be forthcoming if Mr. Bond would make affidavit that he did not have the information resulted in speedy argument whereby the formal demand was withdrawn and the prosecutor promised to furnish the details as to the warrants involved in each count.

Sainor and Robinson Lead League Batteries In Base Hits

'Lefty's' Comeback As Hurler In Second Half Is Big Feature

Veteran Southpaw Recovers Form When He Joins Old Batterymate and Stickwork Improves Simultaneously; Pair are Pushed for Honors by Mike Cebula and Potts.

Regarded among the feature achievements of the past City Industrial League Baseball season was the comeback of "Lefty" Sainor, as a pitcher, in the second half of the campaign.

The veteran southpaw found himself when his old catcher, Robinson, went behind the bat. Even his hitting, fine as it previously had been—.382 in the initial period—reached .388 in the final scrimmages. Consequently he finished with an average of .386, just four points behind Robinson. Some battery that. And the hardest hitting combination in the circuit. The figures show it .386 and .382 respectively.

The next heaviest swatting pitcher and catcher would be Mike Cebula and Potts, of Chester, with .375 and .339 respectively. The latter would qualify with .907 and .985 each against Robinson's 1.000 and Sainor's .884.

Mike Cebula batted, despite his many appearances in the pitchers' box, just 14 points below McShane, just .25 shy of Eddie Bayley's mark and .56 below that of Hen Strobel. Indeed, Cebula, in 12 games of the second half batted .464, as against .293 in 14 contests of the first half. He was thus but eight points below his brother P. Cebula, who was also in 12 contests of the final interim of play.

The record of Davis, of Wellsville and Victory Motors, also stood out. Here was a player who, reputed fast on his feet and a good fielder, was held to be weak with the stick. Yet he finished with .417 while in fielding his mark was .750. Davis hit .363 while with Wellsville in the first and .286 in the single contest of the first interim with Victory Motor, to which club he was traded, which gave him an average of .333 for that period. In the second he batted at a .467 clip, the whole giving him a mark of .417 for the season.

"Chappie" Finley, who in days ago was wont to lead the circuit in numerous departments of play, concluded with a mark of .358. His hitting improved 56 points in the second half when he swatted .389 as against .333 in the first.

Wilde, of Chester, qualified as among the league's best hitters with .369 for the season. Hower, he fell off 58 points in the second period when he clouted .33 instead of his .391 at the outset of play.

The heaviest hitting catcher for both seasons of play was Potts, of Chester, with .339. He, too, failed to connect as well in the second half when he made .281, in comparison to his .407 of the first section. Potts lost greatly by the throwing out of the game with K. T. K. on June 15 when he batted 1.000 with three hits in three times up. These would have given him .371 for the year.

Perhaps the greatest gain by any player in the league in hitting was made by Stoffel after being traded to Chester by K. T. K. at the beginning of the second half when he smote the ball at .438 as against his mark of .161 with the potters. The difference is .277 points. In the second half he was in 11 games and the first, nine games. His grand total was .294 for the year, just six points below the charmed circle.

Reed, of Wellsville, had the only perfect batting record, but he was in only one game. Meyers, of K. T. K., in nine contests, led the .500 class with .579; Wolfe, of Wellsville, in one game, the .400 delegation with .441; E. Bayley, the .300 contingent with .392; L. McMath the .200 section with .295: Kinsey of K. T. K., the .100 department with .188 while those below the century mark were topped by Ashe, of Laughlin, with .067.

Of the league leaders of past years, Buzzard, of Victory Motors, was in but five games of the second half in which he batted an even .500; Finley, of Laughlin, made .358 in 39 contests; W. Mundy .350 in 25; Simcox, of K. T. K., .318 in 27, and Herbert, Turk-Nash, .281 in 32.

Evans, of Chester, gained in his second half hitting when he made .365 in 18 games as against .259 in 11 contests of the first, a difference of 106 points.

Greene, of Chester, dropped from .279 in the first to .206 in the second. He was in but 12 games of the second half, and 21 in the first.

Les McMath hit for a mark of .302 in the second, improving greatly over his .288 of the first half. He, too, lost two hits in the game with K. T. K., thrown out which probably would have kept him above the .300 mark in the first half. He finished with .295.

WATERBURG, Conn., Dec. 10.—Jack Delaney, world's light heavyweight champion, will make his first start under colors in some months tonight when he meets Jamaica Kid, veteran negro boxer, in a fifteen round bout to a decision. If the negro makes the limit of 175 pounds. Delaney's title will be at stake.

According to word from the champion's camp, Jack has been unable to get below 179 pounds and must make heroic sacrifices if he is to save his weight forfeit of $2,500.

BAPTISTS COP OVERTIME GAME

Down Parks, 30-29, in Second Extra Period.

IN one of the most sensational contests of the league to date, the Baptists won a close decision over the Park Boulevards last night in a Church loop clash at the M. E. court, two overtime periods being necessary to determine the outcome. The final count was 30-29.

The Baptists led at the half, 18 to 15 but the count was knotted at 29-all at the end of the game. In the first overtime period, neither side scored.

The Parks were given two great opportunities on a foul try and a field goal that was missed and then Orval Parsons of the Baptists dropped in the foul that clinched the game.

The Christians and the Presbyterians will play the first game, beginning at 7:30 tomorrow night on the "Y" court, followed by the Lutherans and Methodists.

Panthers Set New Attendance Mark In 1926 Campaign

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—A new record for football attendance in the trans-Allegheny Mountain section was established this season by the University of Pittsburgh, according to the figures made public here today by the graduate manager's office. The nine games played by the Panthers were watched by a total of 257,000 persons, or an average of slightly more than 28,000 at each game. This is believed to be one of the highest averages of any school in the country.

The establishment of the new record was made possible by the splendid weather which marked each Saturday here during the season. After the opening game with Allegheny college, which was played in a driving rain, every Saturday brought with it sunny skies.

A similar mark might have been made a year ago when Pitt opened its new stadium had it not been that rain fell every day during the fall.

The attendance for each game this season follows:

Allegheny, 12,000; Georgetown, 20,000; Lafayette, 30,000; Colgate, 20,000; Carnegie Tech, 40,000; Westminster, 10,000; West Virginia, 30,000; W. & J., 45,000; Penn State, 50,000.

EKLUND KEEPS HIS MAT TITLE

'PRO' NET GAME TO BE RAPPED

Association Will Release Legislative Broadside.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Professional tennis, the bugaboo of all gentlemen who parade behind the band wagon of the United States Lawn Tennis association as a labor of love, probably will come in for a legislative broadside tomorrow when the association's executive committee will convene in all its annual displeasure over matters in general. Publicly, the committee is likely to treat the so-called professional menace with profound and depressing silence.

In this way, it will plainly indicate that a condition which divorced it from Mlle. Lenglen, Vincent Richards, Howard Kinsey, Mary Browne and others during a single season is beneath its notice. Then, under cover of the locked door and the plugged keyhole, it will prove its indifference by enacting such legislation as it thinks will cramp the style of those who would make lawn tennis a gainful occupation.

I do not seem to understand just how a resolution is to alter the impression, entertained by some ill-informed individuals, that you can buy more loaves of bread with a dollar than you can with a loving cup. Still, the boys must resolute about something and there seems to be a general tendency, here and elsewhere, to view this particular situation with alarm.

The British, for example, will adopt on Monday, a re-written rule, which they say will "clearly define the amateur." The writer seems to remember that that was done some years ago by a man of great perspicacy. He characterized an amateur as a guy who wouldn't take a check.

However, the English say they have put what they are pleased to call "teeth" in their resolution and now I presume that there will be nothing left for C. C. Pyle but an arid and comfortless old age. He might take up the profession of dentistry, however.

Similar action, it is whispered, will be taken by the executive committee tomorrow. Then its deliberations will be duly read into the activities at the annual meeting in February, after which Charley Pyle will be given 24 hours in which to leave the country, change his name or shave the left side of his lip.

Meantime, official tennis circles are rife with assurances that competition in professional tennis is many years removed. It is claimed that not more than four men in this country, outside of Richards, Kinsey, Snodgrass and Paul Feret, can give a respectable exhibition in public and they refer to George Agutter's apostolic trip abroad as meaningless. No, they say, professional tennis can't hope for a foothold in America for some years.

That probably is the reason that tomorrow may inspire the executive committee to draft a rule, forbidding an amateur to play against a professional or of otherwise engaging in a technically outlaw competition on the plea that it did not constitute a match.

Huggins Seeks Player.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Miller Huggins admitted today that the New York Yankees were in the market for an infielder, an outfielder and two pitchers and that pending deals for the men in question might be completed at the American league meeting in Chicago next week. The outfielder was to come from a minor league club, Huggins asserted.

Yankee players who might be involved, according to unofficial estimates, were Aaron Ward, Joe Dugan, Bob Shawkey and Sam Jones.

Silk Worms Outdone by Wood.

An artificial silk made from wood is being produced in greater quantity now than that of the silk worms over a given period. In one year 150,000,000 pounds of this artificial silk made from wood alone exceeded the production of real silk by all the silk worms.

ELKS DRILL STRENUOUSLY FOR COUNTY FLOOR LEAGUE CONTESTS

Two Scrimmage Sessions at "Y" Gym Last Night Provide Plenty of Action; More Work Scheduled Today and Tomorrow.

TWO squads of prospective Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league performers went through the paces last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium under the watchful eye of Coach William Powell, director of the quint that will wear the colors of the East Liverpool Elks in the cage race that is scheduled to start next week.

Enough material for two full squads with a few left over reported last night for workout and as many were present the night before.

"Bus" Crawford and Smith Anderson, two other members of the outfit, were unable to report for last night's workout.

Clark, Wain, Wilson and McDevitt were used at forwards, with Canne and Howard at the pivot posts. McConville, Hamilton, Reese, Hogue and Salsbury performed at the guards.

No signals were used and no effort was made to carry out any predesignated mode of performance. The present workouts, according to Powell, will serve to work out the stiffness, improve "wind," and give the "shots" an opportunity to limber up their wrists and arms for future marksmanship.

The squad will drill again at noon today, it was planned, with another session tomorrow afternoon.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

"Huddle" Invades Court Game

The "huddle" system, employed of recent years in football, may be taken up by basketball teams this season, judging by the report from Princeton that the Tiger five may use it. Plays from the toss-up will be mapped out after each basket. Photo shows the Princeton five in a huddle.

Seven Conference Contests Dated on Wooster Grid Card

WOOSTER, Dec. 10.—The 1927 football schedule for the Wooster college team calls for seven Ohio conference games and the usual opener with Ashland at Wooster on October 1.

For the first time in many years Wooster and Denison will not meet. It was impossible for the two teams to arrange a satisfactory date. It is hoped that the two schools will play again in 1928. Heidelberg at Tiffin replaces Denison.

The schedule calls for Case, Mount Union and Oberlin for the home games and Reserves at Cleveland, Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware and Akron at Akron for the other out of town games.

Wooster's schedule:
October 1. Ashland at Wooster.
October 8. Mt. Union at Wooster.
October 15. Heidelberg at Tiffin.
October 22. Case at Wooster.
October 29. Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware.
November 5. Reserve at Cleveland.
November 12. Oberlin at Wooster.
November 19. Akron at Akron.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

THE post season argument as to which grid eleven was the outstanding one—the national champion—of the campaign of 1926 is now on in full blast. Name you own candidate.

I offer, however, seven teams for consideration.

Quite obviously a team must be scored upon to be defeated. The seven toughest elevens in the country to score against were:

Alabama.
U. of Pennsylvania.
Northwestern.
Carnegie Tech.
New York University.
Notre Dame.
Lafayette.

Alabama University, playing a majority of the powerful elevens of the south, if not all, scored 242 points while permitting its opponents to score just 20. A total of three touchdowns was registered against the Tuscaloosa team. Vanderbilt, Mississippi A. and M. and Georgia each crossed the goal line once. Eewanee was the only opponent to prevent the Alabama team from registering a touchdown or more.

Pennsylvania permitted its opponents just the same number of points—20—while piling up 204. John Hopkins score one touchdown against the Penn team and Cornell one. Illinois and Cornell booted field goals. Two touchdowns permitted in a single season is a proud achievement for any team.

Northwestern permitted its opponents to score three touchdowns and a total of 22 points. Notre Dame, Chicago and Iowa each crossed the goal line once. Carlton scored a field goal. Meanwhile Coach Thistlethwaite's team piled up 178 points against its rivals, which included Notre Dame, Purdue, Chicago and Iowa.

Carnegie Tech had been overlooked, perhaps, until it pounced on Notre Dame but the Steffen's men permitted but 23 points to be tallied against them all season. W. and J. whipped them 17 to 6 early in the season and New York U. has nosed out a victory 6 to 0. The Tech team, over the entire campaign, scored 187 points.

New York University, plowing through the season without a defeat until nicked by Nebraska, permitted its rivals to tally just 25 points while scoring 172. Chick Meehan's team held scoreless Carnegie Tech—the team which later scored 19 points against Notre Dame. Nebraska scored 15 of the 25 points. Fordham and West Virginia Wesleyan tallied the rest.

Fight Results

AT CINCINNATI—Bret Waggener, Petersburg, Indiana, knocked out Johnny Cazzaro, Fort Thomas, in the seventh round of their scheduled ten round fight.

Flash Willard and Jack Moore fought a four round draw while Dewitt Bowser beat John Kubec in the curtain raiser.

Bird's Bones Carry Air.

The bones of all flying birds are said to be hollow and filled with air, thus showing that nature knew what it was about when it designed them for the air. This plan, as any physicist will confirm, makes for not only lightness but for the greatest strength. A solid bone besides being heavier, would be less strong against strain such as a flying fowl is put to.

Deputy State Fire Marshal to Probe Columbus Blazes

COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—Effort will be made today by Deputy State Fire Marshal Frank G. Henry to determine the origin of the fire which ruined the storeroom of the MacDonald shop for women, 50 North High street, and three shops in the Powell building, 19-23 East Gay street, besides destroying the Powell building here Wednesday.

Revised estimates placed the total loss at about $200,000.

The F. G. and A. Howald furniture company, Dunlap shoe company and the Bradford-Husch company, adjoining stores, sustained losses totaling several thousand dollars, due to smoke and water.

Three Ls Strong Bond.

Among the English speaking peoples the strongest bond uniting them is said to be that of the three Ls—literature, law and language. Some students put language first and literature last, but others maintain that the literature is what has made the language foremost in the triple bond.

ANNUAL RUSH FOR AUTO TAGS

About 5,000 class A automobile licenses are expected to be issued by the road commission between now and the end of the rush at the first of the year. There is but 18 more working days until the first of the year and since the applications for the plates are coming in slowly the usual eleventh hour stampede upon the automobile department is expected. The department issued a warning to owners to "apply early and avoid the rush," which really fits the case, it was said.

Applications by mail are being received and sent out at the rate of about 1,000 a day.

Mail applications are coming in more rapidly than last year, owing to the simplicity of the arrangement, it was said. It is only necessary o sign a blank and return it with the required fee.

A total of 194,000 plates were made by the road commission but the number to be issued is likely to fall several thousands short of that, it was said.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Washington society doings opened with a loud bang simultaneously with the convening of congress.

Society and politics in the national capital are considerably mixed.

Many a legislator's, many an official's good will is won, in behalf of policies or measures he wouldn't otherwise favor, by a little social taffy which he doesn't care so much for, maybe, but for which his women folk have an inordinate fondness.

It isn't the big blow-outs that count. Anybody can get invitations to all the cold-blooded formal functions. A White House reception is about as public as the lobby of the Union depot. Social secretaries make up the guest lists for such affairs out of the Congressional Directory.

Admission to the inner circle—to the intimate little parties, dinners, teas and salons, with only a dozen or so of the really elite apiece in attendance—that's what signifies.

CONGRESSMAN and Mrs. So-and-so lunched at the White House today.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon entertained a small party at dinner last evening. The guests were——

The following were entertained over the week-end on the presidential yacht Mayflower——

To get your name into an occasional paragraph such as any one of these, in the society columns of the Washington newspapers is what sets the seal of gentility upon your reputation among the capital's socially elect.

HOW much weight President Coolidge places upon social considerations may be judged from the fact that he refused to permit the White House to be under repairs this winter, though competent engineers warned him that there really is serious danger that the roof may fall in on him.

He'd take his chance until congress adjourns, he decided, rather than go into temporary quarters, where the atmosphere of the executive mansion would be lacking from the senatorial breakfast, the luncheons to prominent visitors and the dinners to leading statesmen and their wives which he plans for the current "season."

Nobody ever accused the present president of being a social butterfly from any choice of his own, but he can flutter a bit—as a moth, anyway—for political advantage.

VICE PRESIDENT DAWES will do some formidable fluttering. He has presidential aspirations. He needs all the friends he can make, among the party leaders. There's no better way of making them than over his own dinner table.

Speaker Longworth has presidential aspirations, too, and he and his wife are great entertainers. They don't entertain ostentatiously, but they entertain with unsurpassed elegance and are ultra-exclusive. An invitation to the Longworths' is regarded as a tremendous asset—social and political. They may not be so exclusive this winter as hitherto. At any rate, they moved into a larger house some time ago, in a nobbier quarter than previously.

Secretary of State Kellogg, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover are noted for their small but swell parties.

It's very classy to have the entree to the larger embassies.

Even Washington's unofficial society is semi-political. Not many families in the upper register live here which haven't political interests. At all events, they like to mingle, on terms of equality, with the political big guns' families.

The social "season" promises to be unusually lively in Washington. There are signs of an exceptionally exciting session of congress. The latter generally means the former. When votes are needed, on the "hill," those who need them hold that there's no surer way of winning them than by means of social attention to the individuals who'll cast them—and their women folk.

Blackstone Opens Three-Day Engagement at Ceramic

Great Magician Mystifies Large Crowd Thursday Night—Special Matinee Performance on Saturday.

A hundred new and mystifying feats of illusion, representing the highest achievement in the magician's art, are part of the long program of rapid fire entertainment and bewildering amusement that is offered by Blackstone, the world's foremost magician, who opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre last night.

He will also give a special matinee Saturday.

Blackstone's uncanny and remarkable performance is more than mere entertainment as it excites and stimulates the beholder by appealing to his keen intelligence, challenging him to detect the manner and means by which the feats are accomplished. For this reason it is not unusual to see among his audiences scientists, professors, students, and clergymen as well as hundreds of men, women and children from all walks of life who are content to be mystified and amused,—even as you and I.

His present production is a veritable triumph in artistic presentation and beautiful design, comprising tons of magic paraphernalia and a carload of special scenery in addition to a company of twenty-five artists and assistants. Some of the illusions and miracles that have helped to make him the world's greatest living entertainer, will be repeated in his present program as well as several entirely new and novel effects.

Blackstone stands alone as the peer of wizards, for he induces the occult powers of nature to produce the most baffling and incomprehensible of illusions with amazing ease and unconcern. He has a wonderful pair of hands, and the dexterity with which he manipulates his marvelous tricks of sleight-of-hand and legerdemain leaves you in a maze of bewilderment.

Per Capita Money For Yule Shopping In U. S. is $42.62

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — The Christmas shopping period finds approximately $4,949,247,000 in circulation in the United States, the treasury announced today.

Money circulation is somewhat less than last year when the per capita figure was $43.35 compared to $42.62 on this December.

Total money stock of the country, including that held by the government and federal reserve banks, was $8,485,116,000 on December 1, a gain of $140,000,000 from the same date last year.

The treasury estimated the population December 1 at 116,114,000, an increase of 1,419,000 in the year.

Here they are—hundreds of them—all the latest hits, all the old favorites. Waiting to entertain you! We want you to hear the new Victor Releases. They are better than ever. Come in and hear them. Davis, Burkham & Tyler's Music Store.

Denmark Ousts Executioner.

Herman Christensen, of Copenhagen, the only official executioner in Denmak, has been relieved of his job which he has held for more than 20 years. The reason given for the act was that it did not seem reasonable to keep him longer "on probation" for the reason that in all that time he has not been called on to officiate.

Accordion To Be Honored.

Paris is soon to observe the anniversary of the invention of the accordion which, as a popular musical instrument in its present form, was invented about 1826. Charles Buffet, a musical instrument dealer in Paris, was the inventor. A centennary program of considerable proportions has been worked out.

Hongkong proposes to tax all radio receiving sets at the same rate as for wireless telegraph stations, which is $2.50 a year.

Rockford, Ill., Court Clerk Arrested at Ashtabula, Ohio

ASHTABULA, O., Dec. 10.—Henry Rasmussen, whose term of office as clerk of the probate court at Rockford, Ill., expired last Tuesday, was arrested here yesterday and is being held pending the arrival of Illinois officers.

Rasmussen at first gave the name of H. Russell. In his pockets, police say, were various clippings from Rockford papers which told of alleged shortages in the probate clerk's accounts. He told newspapermen that he had come to Ashtabula for the purpose of applying for the position of city manager and denied any irregularities existed in his accounts.

Mellett's "True Friend" is Excused From Jury Duty

COURT HOUSE, CANTON, O., Dec. 10.— "true friend" of the murdered Don R. Mellett yesterday asked to be excused from jury duty during the trial of Patrick E. McDermott because he "knew and admired" the slain man.

In a voice that quivered with emotion, the banker declared:

"He was my friend, I could not listen impartially to the evidence in this case."

"Perhaps I am prejudiced—but I knew Mellett," he added later.

He was excused from duty.

Flood Spares Bible and Radio.

When Mr. and Mrs. George H. Thompson of Leroy, Kan., returned to their home after a flood they found everything innundated excepting the family Bible and the radio set. The book and receiving set were side by side on a little table which floated with the floor waters and stayed right side up with remarkable equilibrium. The Bible was not even wet.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO.

But a pause came. The final scenes of the piece had to be played at the rear of the stage. Feeling the silence, Julian turned.

Murry Watt was looking at him, and now advanced to the steps that gave down from the front of the stage to the lower forestage just above the ground.

"My dear friend," he said, smiling in his expansive way, "I fear we shall have to trouble you."

"Oh, certainly!" cried Julian and descended the stepladder; hurrying to remove it. But he stumbled at the ladder, threw it off balance. It appeared about to fall on Hester. Julian sprang ineffectually after it, but Joe, quicker than he, caught it.

"Snappy work, Marceline!" he said, guardedly, and then carried the ladder offstage at the side. Julian hesitated, while the slow color rose in his cheeks. He saw Sadie, standing on the ground, had parted the side curtains and was looking at him. She had to move aside for Joe to pass. Hester, unaware of her momentary danger, had run down the front steps to speak to the director.

"Snappy work, Marceline."

Julian moved, quickly then, after the boy. He leaped to the ground. They were hidden there from those on the stage and in front. Joe was setting down the ladder on the ground. He turned, and found Julian standing rigidly before him.

"Just one moment!" said Julian, in a low, deliberate voice. "Just one moment!" Sadie hardly a yard away, felt a curious touch of unreality in him. He had never looked more the sensitive poet. "He's acting," she thought. "He's all nerved up to this, making himself do it. The poor boy;"

Joe chuckled in frank insolent amusement. Then he would have brushed by. The arrogance of the undisciplined young actor, flushed with discriminating praise, shone in his eyes. But Julian blocked the steps.

"Just one moment!" Sadie could have cried out. Was he going to utter that meaningless phrase a fourth time? Already, if he had healthy anger to show, he had waited too long. That kind of thing must be instant to be sound. Heaven knew Julian had authority enough. Money is authority Why didn't he use his real strength?

Glenn Drake, Popular Tenor, In Concert Here Tuesday

Glenn Drake, popular tenor, who will appear at the Ceramic theatre Tuesday evening in a Civic Music society concert, believes that an artist's duty to the public transcends all else.

"It is no more than right," said he, "when the public are paying their good money to hear you, to give them the very best that is in you. You never can tell who will be in your audience. It may be that some important manager is passing through and goes to hear you out of curiosity. His opinion of your work is formed then, and not by anything you may do later, so it is never safe to slight your audience.

"The first, and to my mind, the most important requirement in keeping fit is plenty of sleep and relaxation, and I see to it that I have both. Simple food and plenty of exercise is the thing, and with these precepts in mind you need never disappoint an audience, for if you follow them, you will be healthy and wise, to paraphrase the old saying.

Often I am asked, 'When do you do your best work? How to you keep your voice in condition?' My answer is "routine." I have a certain schedule and stick to it. I spend my mornings in scale practice to keep the voice flexible. In the afternoon my accompanist comes at a certain hour and we go over my songs and work on any special program that I may be preparing to sing.

"One hour each day I devote to the study of languages for it is important, if you are singing French, German or Italian, not only to be able to pronounce the words correctly, but to be familiar enough with the language to understand the meaning of the text. It is astonishing what you can accomplish in an hour, if you are consistent and keep at it every day. I have a fair understanding of the three languages and can speak them, and I have done that by giving an hour each day to it.

"If I am going to sing, I manage to get through with my routine early and then go to a movie, for there you can be quiet and yet your mind has a distraction. My art means everything to me, and I would not feel satisfied to let even a day go by without adding something to my store."

Rose Tree 1,000 Years Old.

At Hildesheim, Germany, is a rose tree covering one side of the parish yard, that by the records of the church is over a thousand years old The roots are visble in the crypt of the church and the church records tells of the pruning, trimming and care of the tree over the long period.

Spent Fortune in Search

"I spent $1,800 in seven years treating with physicians, some specialists costing me $10 a visit, only to at last say nothing could be done for me, that I had cancer or ulcers of the stomach. I suffered awful pains in my stomach, but after taking a few doses of MAYR'S these all disappeared and for three years am feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

ENTERTAINING ANGEL

Joe was plainly on the brink of outright laughter.

"What's got into you?" he asked; then, with some impatience, raised a hand to put this curious human obstruction aside.

Julian struck the hand away. They locked straight at each other. Joe wasn't laughing now. And still Julian waited.

To Sadie the situation was taking a serious aspect. "My God!" she thought. "He isn't going to try to fight him!"

At last Julian spoke.

"Don't use that name again," he said, breathlessly.

Again silence fell.

"Don't be silly!" said Joe then, and stepping around to the rear of the stage vaulted up and called, "All right, Hester!"

Julian stood only a moment. Before Sadie could collect her thoughts to speak or move, he was walking swiftly away. He listed the canvas wall and went outside. The canvas fell behind him. Sadie stood a little while, trying to think out the small incident. Her pretty mouth bent into a twisted smile. Then, uncertainly, she went out after him.

He was sitting in his car.

"Will you let me sit with you, Julian?" she asked.

He nodded quickly, a thought too quickly for Sadie. She hesitated, a little hurt; but then threw off her mood before it could shadow her thoughts, and stepped lightly up into the car. She couldn't help snuggling up to him.

"I saw it, you know," she said, covertly and even somewhat anxiously studying him.

"What? . . . Oh!"

"I was right there."

"You heard what he said?"

"Yes." She wanted deeply to help him, but couldn't hit at once on the way. "That boy was fairly asking for a good hard call," she remarked. How could she make it clear to him that he'd gone at it all wrong? He'd let Joe, really, get away with it. Jim, now, would have leaped down his throat. There wouldn't have been any doubt regarding his meaning. A few quick crisp phrases would have made that clear. Oh, Jim could be crisp! Instantly the stronger nature would have dominated the young and weaker one. There wouldn't have been a question as to who was boss. . . . "I'm afraid you were too gentle with him," she added, still groping for some true approach to this unworldly mind.

"Gentle?" Julian was surprised. "I thought I made myself clear. You heard what I said? Of course it was foolish to lose my temper."

Sadie nodded. "Yes. I heard it. But I'm afraid you'd have to treat that boy pretty rough before he'd even know you meant it."

It was no good. He'd never understand.

"I wanted to hit him."

Sadie ran a slim finger around the frame of the little clock on the cowl board. This wouldn't do either. A situation was developing, and pretty rapidly. No doubt about that. Some kind of clash there would be. Sooner or later. Probably some queer kind that one couldn't foresee. Joe's arrogance would surely grow. Let him taste the favor of a few audiences, a little real laughter, and applause, and nature would do the rest. His head would be turned over night. Sadie had seen it happen a hundred times. The audiences would like him. They didn't know anything about technique, but responded instantly to a pleasantly exuberant personality, and that Joe surely had.

He was the "manly" type, and yet appealingly a boy. He'd be handsome in costume and paint. Oh, they'd fall for him. And after that there'd be no heading him. . . . On the other hand, Julian, in his unfortunately roundabout way, meant business.

For the first time, the thought occurred to her that a nature like his might prove dogged. There were signs enough. He wasn't weak. She knew that now. And he wasn't a coward. He simply didn't know how to go about things in this very earthy world. . . . Yes, he'd go through. Wrongly, of course, but through. And his sensitive heart would be broken. She stole another glance at him. His profile, she felt, was beautiful. And he lived in the clouds. It was wonderful, and rather terrible. Sadie's emotions, always near the surface and always demanding instant expression, brought her to a little shiver. She couldn't endure this silence any longer. She'd have to do something. Why didn't he take her into his arms and kiss her. It was the only way she knew to be kind to a man, just give whole-heartedly of herself. But he just sat there, gloomily.

She straightened up in the seat. This wouldn't do. And she didn't know how to handle the exquisite timidity that he stirred in her breast. He didn't even seem to know that she had stopped kissing him. It was broad daylight, but Sadie didn't care about that. Emotion, passion was the only reality she had ever known. . . . Desperately then, because she couldn't have sat much longer without screaming, she spoke her practical mind. Spoke it honestly.

"Has it ever occurred to you, dear that we might lose Hester?"

"Lose her?"

"The troupe, I mean. If anything happened to Joe right now. In the state she's in. And, Julian, we can't afford to let her go. She's the one person in the troupe that people talk about, that they really come to see.

DAMAGE SUIT IS INSTITUTED

Alden Edgar West, 10, son of Frank West, of Columbiana, has commenced an action in the common pleas court here against the Bixler Baking company of Youngstown, for $725 damages.

The Youngstown company, it is stated, delivers bread and other baked goods in Columbiana each day by truck, and on the 9th of last June as young West was riding his bicycle down South Main street, the Bixler truck it is alleged backed out from the curb in front of the Frederick building, and collided with the boy and the bicycle.

It is claimed that the lad was badly injured about the back and legs, ligaments and nerves being torn, twisted and lacerated, to the extent that he has not yet recovered.

SALEM ATTORNEYS GIVEN JUDGMENT

Galen Scattergood, as administrator of the estate of the late W. W. Scattergood of Salem, failed to appear in common pleas court Thursday when the case of Metzger & McCarthy of that city against him as administrator was called for trial, so Judge W. F. Jones directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $254.21 and costs. The law firm of Metzger & McCarthy filed the action some time ago against the estate to recover judgment against the Scattergood estate for the amount for which judgment was rendered, claiming that it was due them for work and labor along the line of their profession.

EL PASO IS ONLY CITY OF 110,000 HAVING BUT 100 FRAME DWELLINGS

EL PASO, Texas.—No other city in Texas and only a few in the United States as large as El Paso can boast a population of 110,000 persons with only slightly more than 100 frame buildings within its limits.

And while El Paso, being a resort city, is swarming with apartment houses and family hotels, it contains more than 17,000 residences.

The reason for the absence of frame houses in El Paso is directly due to the inability many years ago to get lumber and the availability of brick in plenty. The predominance of brick buildings further was augmented in 1917 when the city council passed an ordinance banning erection of frame structures within the city limits.

Perhaps this rigid legislation has re-acted unfavorably on Texas lumber-men but it certainly has been profitable to the city in reduction of annual fire losses.

El Paso stands seventh in the United States in low annual fire loss. During the last nine years annual toll has averaged approximately $150,000.

In addition to what it saves property owners, the ordinance has saved the city large sums of money in maintenance of a large fire department. Seven fire stations with a personnel of 95 employes and 12 apparatus serve El Paso and the upper and lower Rio Grande valley over an area of probably 20 square miles. And until recently the El Paso department has answered calls in Juarez, Mexico across the river.

The frame houses now in the city were erected either before the ordinance was passed or were taken into the city by annexation. The small number of frame structures slowly is dwindling as fires consume a number of them each year and brick and stucco edifices replace them in compliance with the ordinance provisions.

She Teaches Snakes to Drill.

Miss Nora Wilkins, of Powell county, Kentucky, is a snake catcher by vocation and she makes a good living out of the job. She is only twenty-three years old, and she has caught and sold some rare specimens to circuses, zoological gardens and private collectors. She has, at her home, six snakes which she has taught to crawl in drill formation.

A slot machine that dispenses clean towels has been perfected.

Cromwell's Watch Stolen.

Scotland Yard officials in London are investigating the mysterious disappearance of Oliver Cromwell's watch from the London museum. The timepiece is a fine piece of workmanship, ovoid in shape and with only one hand. On the dial, which is silver, is a view of the spires of Worcester cathedral and two browsing rabbits.

Bird's Bones Carry Air.

The bones of all flying birds are said to be hollow and filled with air, thus showing that nature knew what it was about when it designed them for the air. This plan, as any physicist will confirm, makes for not only lightness but for the greatest strength. A solid bone besides being heavier, would be less strong against strain such as a flying fowl is put to.

Deputy State Fire Marshal to Probe Columbus Blazes

COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—Effort will be made today by Deputy State Fire Marshal Frank G. Henry to determine the origin of the fire which ruined the storeroom of the MacDonald shop for women, 50 North High street, and three shops in the Powell building, 19-23 East Gay street, besides destroying the Powell building here Wednesday.

Revised estimates placed the total loss at about $200,000.

The F. G. and A. Howald furniture company, Dunlap shoe company and the Bradford-Husch company, adjoining stores, sustained losses totaling several thousand dollars, due to smoke and water.

Three Ls Strong Bond.

Among the English speaking peoples the strongest bond uniting them is said to be that of the three Ls—literature, law and language. Some students put language first and literature last, but others maintain that the literature is what has made the language foremost in the triple bond.

AUTO CLUB MEN AT STATE MEET

Rutledge and Diehl Return From Bluefield, W. Va.

R. B. Rutledge, Chester, president, and E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Hancock County Motor club, have returned from Bluefield, W. Va., where they attended the annual meeting of the West Virginia Automobile club. The former was re-elected a member of the board of trustees.

The organization went on record as favoring the plan of distribution of automobile license plates now in effect in Ohio, and will urge the legislature at its next session to enact legislation providing for local stations The association also approved the uniform national traffic code which was drafted at a conference called recently by Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Six states have already adopted this code.

The state highway commission will be urged to complete the marking of the main highways in the state with the uniform federal marking system adopted last year.

South Dakota Site For Summer White House is Offered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—An 80,000-acre tract of land in the Black Hills of South Dakota, and a lodge containing 80 rooms, were offered yesterday to President Coolidge as a site for next summer's White House.

A delegation of South Dakotians, headed by Senator McMaster and W. C. Lust, of the state chamber of commerce, called at the White House and proffered the estate, which is known as Custer Park, and lies about 30 miles from Rapid City.

The president is interested in it, but did not commit himself.

ANNUAL RUSH FOR AUTO TAGS

About 5,000 class A automobile licenses are expected to be issued by the road commission between now and the end of the rush at the first of the year. There is but 18 more working days until the first of the year and since the applications for the plates are coming in slowly the usual eleventh hour stampede upon the automobile department is expected. The department issued a warning to owners to "apply early and avoid the rush," which really fits the case, it was said.

Applications by mail are being received and sent out at the rate of about 1,000 a day.

Mail applications are coming in more rapidly than last year, owing to the simplicity of the arrangement, it was said. It is only necessary o sign a blank and return it with the required fee.

A total of 194,000 plates were made by the road commission but the number to be issued is likely to fall several thousands short of that, it was said.

SEAL CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY HERE

Corn Borer Ban Likely.

Several months ago traces of the deadly borer were found by federal agents in several sections of the county.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Ohioans Will Seek Fund to Construct Giant Dirigible

AKRON, O., Dec. 10.—Ohio senators and representatives will seek an appropriation from the present congress with which to construct an airship of 6,500,000 cubic feet capacity, it became known here today.

Such a dirigible would be three times as large as the ill-fated Shenandoah.

Two such ships already have been authorized by the government and plans prepared by Zeppelin experts employed by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, have been submitted for approval by federal agencies.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

Society and politics in the national capital are considerably mixed.

Many a legislator's, many an official's good will is won, in behalf of policies or measures he wouldn't otherwise favor, by a little social taffy which he doesn't care so much for, maybe, but for which his women folk have an inordinate fondness.

It isn't the big blow-outs that count. Anybody can get invitations to all the cold-blooded formal functions. A White House reception is about as public as the lobby of the Union depot. Social secretaries make up the guest lists for such affairs out of the Congressional Directory.

Admission to the inner circle—to the intimate little parties, dinners, teas and salons, with only a dozen or so of the really elite apiece in attendance—that's what signifies.

CONGRESSMAN and Mrs. So-and-so lunched at the White House today.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon entertained a small party at dinner last evening. The guests were——

The following were entertained over the week-end on the presidential yacht Mayflower——

To get your name into an occasional paragraph such as any one of these, in the society columns of the Washington newspapers is what sets the seal of gentility upon your reputation among the capital's socially elect.

HOW much weight President Coolidge places upon social considerations may be judged from the fact that he refused to permit the White House to be under repairs this winter, though competent engineers warned him that there really is serious danger that the roof may fall in on him.

He'd take his chance until congress adjourns, he decided, rather than go into temporary quarters, where the atmosphere of the executive mansion would be lacking from the senatorial breakfast, the luncheons to prominent visitors and the dinners to leading statesmen and their wives which he plans for the current "season."

Nobody ever accused the present president of being a social butterfly from any choice of his own, but he can flutter a bit—as a moth, anyway—for political advantage.

VICE PRESIDENT DAWES will do some formidable fluttering. He has presidential aspirations. He needs all the friends he can make, among the party leaders. There's no better way of making them than over his own dinner table.

Speaker Longworth has presidential aspirations, too, and he and his wife are great entertainers. They don't entertain ostentatiously, but they entertain with unsurpassed elegance and are ultra-exclusive. An invitation to the Longworths' is regarded as a tremendous asset—social and political. They may not be quite so exclusive this winter as hitherto. At any rate, they moved into a larger house some time ago, in a nobbier quarter than previously.

Secretary of State Kellogg, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover are noted for their small but swell parties.

It's very classy to have the entree to the larger embassies.

Even Washington's unofficial society is semi-political. Not many families in the upper register live here which haven't political interests. At all events, they like to mingle, on terms of equality, with the political big guns' families.

The social "season" promises to be unusually lively in Washington. There are signs of an exceptionally exciting session of congress. The latter generally means the former. When votes are needed, on the "hill," those who need them hold that there's no surer way of winning them than by means of social attention to the individuals who'll cast them—and their women folk.

Blackstone Opens Three-Day Engagement at Ceramic

Great Magician Mystifies Large Crowd Thursday Night—Special Matinee Performance on Saturday.

A hundred new and mystifying feats of illusion, representing the highest achievement in the magican's art, are part of the long program of rapid fire entertainment and bewildering amusement that is offered by Blackstone, the world's foremost magician, who opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre last night.

He will also give a special matinee Saturday.

Blackstone's uncanny and remarkable performance is more than mere entertainment as it excites and stimulates the beholder by appealing to his keen intelligence, challenging him to detect the manner and means by which the feats are accomplished. For this reason it is not unusual to see among his audiences scientists, professors, students, and clergymen as well as hundreds of men, women and children from all walks of life who are content to be mystified and amused,—even as you and I.

His present production is a veritable triumph in artistic presentation and beautiful design, comprising tons of magic paraphernalia and a carload of special scenery in addition to a company of twenty-five artists and assistants. Some of the illusions and miracles that have helped to make him the world's greatest living entertainer, will be repeated in his present program as well as several entirely new and novel effects.

Blackstone stands alone as the peer of wizards, for he induces the occult powers of nature to produce the most baffling and incomprehensible of illusions with amazing ease and unconcern. He has a wonderful pair of hands, and the dexterity with which he manipulates his marvelous tricks of sleight-of-hand and legerdemain leaves you in a maze of bewilderment.

Per Capita Money For Yule Shopping In U. S. is $42.62

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — The Christmas shopping period finds approximately $4,949,247,000 in circulation in the United States, the treasury announced today.

Money circulation is somewhat less than last year when the per capita figure was $43.35 compared to $42.62 on this December.

Total money stock of the country, including that held by the government and federal reserve banks, was $8,485,116,000 on December 1, a gain of $140,000,000 from the same date last year.

The treasury estimated the population December 1 at 116,114,000, an increase of 1,419,000 in the year.

Here they are—hundreds of them—all the latest hits, all the old favorites. Waiting to entertain you! We want you to hear the new Victor Releases. They are better than ever. Come in and hear them. Davis, Burkham & Tyler's Music Store.

Denmark Ousts Executioner.

Herman Christensen, of Copenhagen, the only official executioner in Denmak, has been relieved of his job which he has held for more than 20 years. The reason given for the act was that it did not seem reasonable to keep him longer "on probation" for the reason that in all that time he has not been called on to officiate.

Accordion To Be Honored.

Paris is soon to observe the anniversary of the invention of the accordion which, as a popular musical instrument in its present form, was invented about 1826. Charles Buffet, a musical instrument dealer in Paris, was the inventor. A centennary program of considerable proportions has been worked out.

Hongkong proposes to tax all radio receiving sets at the same rate as for wireless telegraph stations, which is $2.50 a year.

Airships—For Japan.
Melons Are Ripe.
290,000,000 Man Power.
Fallible Judges.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

JAPAN has placed in Great Britain an order for 25 passenger airships, costing $50,000 apiece, each able to carry 20 passengers. These British-made Japanese machines will carry two engines, developing 1,000 horsepower.

The Japanese are friendly and they are not worried over talk in the oil trial about serious trouble with Japan two or three years ago.

AND it is fortunate that Japan is so friendly to us. For if they ever started a non-stop flight their ships wouldn't come down. This poor little country has a few ships that can go up, but they can't stay up.

NICE melons in Wall Street. The Woolworth Co., capitalized at $100,000,000, hands 50 millions new stock to share holders. The Fidelity-Phenix Fire Insurance Co. gives shareholders 100 per cent more stock as a bonus, and there are others.

Dollar [illegible] $175,000, new high price, is supposed to indicate confidence in a bull market.

Lambs are usually bulls, and when lambs come in stock brokers make money.

LORD ROTHERMERE says Britian misses prosperity by failure to develop electric power. "The economic welfare of the United States," says he, "is based more than anything else on the fact that she has 29,000,000 electrical horsepower in her factories, equal to 290,000,000 human workers."

IF YOUR little boy has talent, learn from Paderewski, who arrived yesterday, how the good judges often go wrong.

As a youth Paderewski went to a great violin teacher in Berlin, who said to him, "You will never be a musician, so you might as well play the piano."

And Paderewski played the piano, a great pity. The violin excels the piano as the piano excels the tom-tom.

EXPLAINS CLASH

Deposed Police Force Head Will Fight for Job.

Filing charges of unbecoming conduct, disrespect and disobedience, Mayor W. L. Fogo, of Wellsville, last night formally suspended Chief of Police John H. Fultz, as an aftermath of a verbal clash earlier in the day growing out of the mayor's dismissal of James Pugia on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor.

Fultz To Demand Hearing.

The mayor's three charges are:

"1. Conduct unbecoming an officer.

"2. Disrespect to your superior officer.

Asserting that he would fight the case, the suspended chief today announced that he would appeal to the Wellsville Civil Service commission for a hearing.

In the meantime both the executive and deposed chief are awaiting action of the court of appeals on the mayor's previous removal action against Fultz, which was taken up on error after Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence had reinstated Fultz. Prior to that, Mayor Fogo's removal had been upheld by the Wellsville Civil Service commission, which had resulted in the transfer of the legal battlefront to Lisbon.

Pugia, Twelfth street grocer, had been arrested by Fultz on Wednesday night and he was taken before Mayor Fogo shortly before noon yesterday on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. Pugia is one of the witnesses who testified against Fultz in his previous fight for reinstatement.

Despite the mayor's action, Fultz reported for duty today. He said he would remain on the job pending the appellate court ruling in the first ouster action, under instructions of his attorneys.

Mayor's Explanation.

In a statement issued today, in explanation of his action, Mayor Fogo asserts that: "The entire controversy started after the chief had picked up the bottle which had been introduced as evidence and there were no words between the chief and myself prior to that time."

Fogo points out that in a conference with police last night following the issuance of charges against Fultz, he (the mayor) issued instructions that he wanted all law violators brought in, and also cautioned patrolmen in respect to private homes.

Fogo's Statement.

The mayor's verbatim statement follows:

"While it has always been my policy, as mayor since the first of the year, never to rush into print and in addition declining to make statements in connection with any city controversies, I feel, after reading last evening's copy of the "Wellsville News" (published in Wellsville) which was represented by Mr. Davis, he, himself being present, that the reports of the events leading to the dismissal of Chief of Police Fultz were so much at variance with what actually took place, that a full statement of the case should be made to the public.

"When I entered the police rooms at the city hall on Thursday morning there were present Chief Fultz, City Hall Policeman Duncan, William Taylor and George Davis, of the "Wellsville News."

"I told City Hall Policeman Duncan to bring up the prisoners from the jail. The first case was Jim Pugia and the slip for him contained a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. The chief was asked for the evidence in the case and he produced

OIL WORKS EMPLOYE IS TARGET OF BLAZING TORRENT IN EXPLOSION

Accepting the magician's offer of $50 to the man who can build a box which he cannot extricate himself, West today began work on the task. He promised to have the box ready for the Saturday night show at the Ceramic.

"Your bring your $50," replied West.

ACTRESS GETS $50,000 BALM IN COURT SUIT

Jury Votes Verdict Against Pittsburgh Millionaire.

Anne Caldwell Wins Award From John W. Hubbard.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10. — Anne Caldwell, New York actress, was awarded $50,000 by a jury in federal court here today in her suit for $500,000 heart balm from John W. Hubbard, millionaire Pittsburgh manufacturer.

The verdict was returned when court opened here today, after 12 hours' deliberation by the jury.

Attorney O. K. Eaton, for the defense, immediately filed a motion for a new trial.

Neither of the principals was in the court room when the verdict was returned.

Terming the verdict a "complete vindication," Miss Caldwell told newspapermen she was going back to her parents' little farm in Chester county, Pa., and "start life anew."

Told Truth, Says Actress.

Miss Caldwell received news of the verdict in the office of Earl Reed, her chief counsel, electing to remain away from the federal courtroom where she had bared her soul to the world, where she frankly described from the witness stand her intimate relations with the wealthy defendant.

"I am pleased and cannot find words to express my gratitude to the press for its kind treatment of me," Miss Caldwell declared.

"It was not only the money that I was fighting for, but vindication. The verdict means that I told the truth on the witness stand and that the jury believed my story and disbelieved Mr. Hubbard's story.

EIGHT MEN FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES

Others Dare Death by Racing Against Flames to Release Moored Tank Carrying Inflammable Cargo.

EVERETT, Mass., Dec. 10.—With a roar that could be heard all over this city, an explosion in the Beacon Oil works early today tore the roof off the power plant and sent flames shooting into the sky, while streams of blazing oil poured out from [illegible] and [illegible]r, John Anderson, was [illegible] by a second explosion and hurled 40 feet to a spot where he became a target for one of the oil torrents, and was badly burned. Eight other workmen in different parts of the plant fled for their lives before the stream of flaming oil that poured out in every direction.

Hardly had terrified residents been roused from their sleep when the second blast shook the city, as fire, caused by the first explosion, reached still other tanks of oil.

$25,000 Property Damage.

Nearly a quarter of a mile distant a policeman, Edward Connelly, was knocked down by the blast.

At the wharf was moored a huge oil tanker, loaded with the inflammable oil. The fire was slowly creeping toward the wharf.

They cast off moorings that held the tanker and worked her to the middle of the river and safety.

Damage to the power plant was estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000.

In Winchloor, 10 miles distant, the shock was felt. In Melrose and Medford houses were rocked and anxious residents thought of earthquakes.

St. Louis Railroad Chief Dies.

TOLL OF DEATH IN MINE BLAST AT FRANCISCO, IND., NOW 25

Two More Bodies are Brought to Surface.

TWO OTHERS DIE.

Three More Men Still Trapped in Blazing Pit.

FRANCISCO, Ind., Dec. 10.—The death list from the explosion in Francisco mine No. 2 today stood at 25, four new victims having been reported this morning. Forty-five others were injured.

Charles [illegible] blackened, the bodies of S. J. Rohl and William C. [illegible] were brought to the surface this morning by a rescue crew that had been searching the passages of the mine since 5:30 this morning, under the handicap of withering heat from a blaze that broke out in the south passageway.

Believe Others Dead.

Another rescue crew went back into the mine to search for Claudie Wright, Emory West, and Walter Thomas, who still are missing.

With the finding of the last two victims the slight hope that had been held out for the missing went glimmering. Mine rescue officials said they have little hope of finding the three alive.

Fire which broke out in the south passageway filled the mine with a terrific heat that eddied through the workings. The blaze spread, interfering with the rescue attempts.

The rescue men are working under the handicap of almost insufferable heat in the workings. Two hours probably is the greatest length of time that a crew can stay in the mine.

As the fire swept the passageways it became increasingly difficult to carry on the search. After the halt at midnight only the one party which returned with Rohl and Ratcliff had been in the mine. The party which left this morning to find the remaining three was determined not to return until their search was successful.

Grimm was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police McDermott.

MRS. HARDIE, 85, DIES IN SALEM

Funeral Services Will be Held Monday Morning.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hardie, 85, widow of Daniel Hardie, and for 27 years a resident of East Liverpool, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Smeltz, 103 East Sixth street, Salem, at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Although Mrs. Hardie had been in ill health, her death, attributed to her advancing age, was unexpected. She recently returned to Salem after a visit at the home of relatives here.

Mrs. Hardie, nee Ryan, was born in April, 1841, in St. Louis, where she was also married. Her husband died 11 years ago. She was a member of the Catholic church.

Besides Mrs. Smeltz, she leaves the following sons and daughters: Daniel, Miama Beach, Fla.; William, Wooster, O.; Mrs. Edward Murray, St. Louis; Mrs. Elizabeth Nolan and Mrs. John Hulme and Miss Janet Hardie, all of East Liverpool. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Ellen Allen, of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held in the Salem Catholic church Monday morning, following which the body will be taken to St. Louis for burial.

Laying of the cornerstone of the new Wells high and elementary school, being erected on the site of the old Kenilworth golf grounds, Newell, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The ceremonies will be in charge of Dr. W. T. Morris, of Wheeling, former deputy of the supreme council of the United States representing the grand master of the West Virginia lodge of Masons. He will be assisted by members of Chester lodge, No. 142, A. F. and A. M. Henry Ahrens, of Wheeling, will accompany him and take part in the program. The principal speaker will be Rev. F. H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wellsville.

The eight-room building, made possible by a $75,000 bond issue voted by electors after the Homer Laughlin China company had contributed $25,000 and W. E. Wells had given $5,000 and the North American Manufacturing company had deeded a site, will be ready for occupancy next September. The construction work is in charge of the Potters' Lumber company.

Members of the Grant district board of education at a meeting held shortly after the bond issue was ratified unanimously decided to name the school in honor of Mr. Wells.

History of School.

"The history of the Grant district High school is a history of progress. If we turn back the pages of history we find that in 1912 our school was held in the Aaron building. But even then there were far-sighted men directing the schools, who felt the need of a new school building and so with Robert B. Brown, president, and Carlysle Aiken and Fred B. Lawrence as commissioners, the board of education began plans for a new building.

"A bond issue of $20,000 was approved, 282 to 69. The bonds, $100 each, were dated August 1st, 1912, and payable August, 1946, bearing 6 per cent interest. The architect was Cassius Metsch. The Potters' Lumber company of East Liverpool, Ohio, was given the contract. In order to have money to forward the school cause a levy of 12½ cents was voted.

"In 1913 the board voted a nine-month school term, near the end of the year they found they must discontinue the grades at the end of eight and one-half months because of lack of funds. Salaries for teachers ranged from $40 to $60 per month.

"In 1913 there were in the district 790 children of school age. Of this number a few were colored, so $10.41 each was their apportionment for their tuition.

District Enumeration.

In July, 1914 the board found there were just two boys in the senior class and so it was decided to send them to East Liverpool, Ohio, for the following school term. This year the superintendent's salary was increased to $115 per month, and the board of education also decided to build a new school house at Ellwood.

"In July, 1918 it was decided that the science department needed a laboratory so a room in the basement was equipped for this purpose.

Buyology

Not all of us are authorities on biology. But all of us may easily master the principles and practices of buyology. It is at once a science, an art; the business of spending money to best advantage.

One's inherent good taste takes care of the artistic side—the fashion element. Scientific merchandising may safely be left to the store that proved its proficiency. The selection of gifts and of things for dressing up the person and the home for Christmas makes buyology most important right now.

Prices are so reasonable and stocks so large and varied that buyology is once more a pleasant as well as an essential profession.

FOUNDATION GARMENTS AND THE MODERN MODE

The designers of Bien Jolie Foundation garments have evolved a group of corsettes exactly fitted to the needs of modern women.

The art of corsetry has known many changes since the heroine of mediaeval romance cultivated a "gentyle body and middle small" by means of a tightly laced gown and the modern prototype of the "privie coat by art made strong," though it may lack the splendour of furred red velvet and cloth of gold, ensures for its wearer a grace and comfort that our ancestresses never knew.

The active, athletic woman of today, with her trim silhouette and tailored lines, requires something different from the "whalebone prison" of past centuries. The rigidity and constriction of the old-time corset have vanished to make way for perfect support and restraint so subtle as to be impossible of definition, a gentle modeling of the entire figure, achieved by perfection of cut rather than by elaboration of boning.

The new Bien Jolie Corsettes are exquisitely fashioned of materials that are as supple as they are durable. There are plain and brocade satins and other fancy brocades. In flesh, peach and black.

Supreme skill in design and cut, meticulous care in every detail of manufacture, and discriminating taste in choice of materials have indeed made the Bien Jolie Corsette one of the most notworthy achivemnts of modrn corsetry.

There is a model for practically every form and our expert corsetiere will be glad to advise you and fit you with the corsette you need.

1913	790
1914	870
1915	953

"In the enumeration of 1923 a total of 1015 was reported.

"Perhaps more important than all these was a drive for a new high school building. A bond issue was voted upon in 1925 but failed to carry. That year the board rented two rooms in the Aaron building and one in the old Nazarene church. Still the board remained undaunted, so with the help of public spirited citizens another attempt was made. Marcus Aaron, president of The Homer Laughlin China company, offered $25,000; W. E. Wells, $5,000, and the North American Manufacturing company a building site toward fulfilling the dreams of a bigger and better school system. With this as a start, a bond issue for $75,000 was voted upon August 3, 1926, and carried,—519 to 216. Peterson and Clark, architects, of Steubenville, Ohio, were employed to prepare plans for the new building, which the Potters Lumber company of East Liverpool, Ohio, is erecting.

Personnel of Board.

"From 1912 until November, 1913, the president of the board of education was Robert B. Brown; the commissioners, Carlysle Aiken and Frank Pittenger. In November, 1913 the following members took office; Austin Brown, president; Carlysle Aiken and Frank Pittinger commissioners, retaining their office until July, 1923.

Then Wayne M. Richardson was chosen president, with John Graham and Frank Pittinger as fellow members. In July, 1925, Fred Porter succeeded Pittenger.

S. T. McBride organized the high school as a third grade school in 1912.

"From 1914-15 the Superintendent was C. W. Stackhouse, assisted by Miss Mayme Cattell.

From 1915-16 B. A. Hall was superintendent, assisted by Ray Palmer, principal, and Miss Eunice Allison. In 1916, A. D. Osborne was elected superintendent, serving from that time to the present with the exception of one year. In 1916-17 he was assisted by Ray Palmer, Miss Eunice Allison and Mrs. Stanforth.

School Instructors.

1922-23—A. D. Osborne, superintendent; E. V. Huffer, principal; Helen Lewis, Virginia Marshall and Eva Gallagher.

"Miss Rachael Baxter has been primary instructor for 17 years, rendering invaluable service.

"County Superintendent H. O. Miller has at all times aided and assisted.

"Chalmer Smith is secretary of the board of education.

"The school board members, with the assistance of Fred B. Lawrence, have given much of their time toward planning the construction of the building.

Call For Allies In White Plague War

The City Federation of Women's Clubs today again appealed for East Liverpool allies in the war against the white plague, financed through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Indicative of the call to arms in this crusade to wipe out tuberculosis is the 1926 health message which shows two musicians flanking a central figure holding a shield, white, on, which is stamped in red the double-barred cross which is the symbol of the National Tuberculosis and Health association and its state and city auxiliaries.

East Liverpool seeks $2,250, of which 80 per cent will be retained for local health purposes, through the seals which are sold separately or in perforated sheets of 100—as government postage stamps are—for a penny a stamp or more if the buyer wishes to contribute more.

The money raised by the annual sale of Christmas seals is used to promote health work and the co-operation in it of citizens' committees, official authorities and the medical profession. Hospital clinics, public health nursing work, health camps for underweight children, open-air schools and information offices to show people how to protect themselves against tuberculosis are all included in the work of the Tuberculosis and Health association.

Such seals on your Christmas packages and mail show that you have taken part in a piece of good work and help to advertise the work to others.

Historic Debt Parallel

A little French town has been celebrating the arrival of Benjamin Franklin 150 years ago, when he went to borrow money to finance the American revolution. French newspapers have taken occasion to draw a historical parallel.

France, they remind the world, cheerfully lent the American colonies the money they needed, and then gave them liberal terms of payment, cancelling six years' interest. They suggest that there is a great contrast in the severity the United States has shown, in demanding payment from France in the case of her World War loans.

If there is a contrast, it is probably the opposite to what the French critics represent. When that six-year moratorium on the American Revolutionary debt expired, the French demand for payment was so insistent that the Colonies were obliged, with great difficulty, to meet the payments by borrowing money in Holland at the end of the war.

America lent France billions for the mere asking, in the recent war. Then, though there was a moderate interest rate specified, this country never asked for it until eight years after the war. During these eight years, France has never paid a cent of interest and never offered to pay any. And France is now fighting a settlement which cancels a far larger proportion of the interest on her World War loans than she concelled on our revolutionary loans.

As for "spending the money in a common cause," that is a pretty good parallel. The old French loan was made to the American colonies by a French king who regarded them as allies in his war against England. America lent France money when France was an ally in our war against Germany. If the scales are not even, which country has been the more generous?

Legal Sport

"The trouble with criminal practice in this country is that such extraordinary emphasis is put upon the doings of the lawyers. In all the important cases the issue as to the guilt or innocence of the men on trial is submerged wholly to the question of which contending attorney will win the game. They act, these lawyers, as if they hoped to get their 'H' or 'Y' by carrying off the verdict. It would be a good idea to set up goal posts in the court room and clear a space so that the winning counsel might snake-dance a little while before tearing them down. All that is needed in an American murder trial is a cheering section. And of course there should be arm bands and banners, frankfurters and peanuts."

Undoubtedly American criminal trials are conducted more like sporting events or stage dramas than dignified and dispassionate legal proceedings. There is so much attention paid to personality that abstract justice is often lost sight of. There is too much browbeating of witnesses. Lawyers assume the importance that should belong to the judges. It makes a good show; but is that what courts are for?

Western Education

Is culture, like empire, destined to take its way forever westward?

"I thing more people are going to college in California than elsewhere in the United States," says an eastern educator. "They are not leaving home to do it, either. They have ample facilities for higher education right at home. Everyone is interested in education, and it is talked about among all classes of people."

He seems to mean education, too—not athletics.

My Favorite Stories
By IRVIN S. COBB

DO YOU CALL THESE FUNNY?

Nearly always there is pathos in stories dealing with the poor, even such stories as are intended to be humorous. Only here the other day I was reading inan English paper an anecdote of a child from a desperately poverty-stricken home who had been carried for treatment to a London hospital.

A nurse put into the waif's hands a long glass of milk, and the child asked:

"How far down do I drink before I have to stop."

The little tale reminded me of one which was meant to be funny, I suppose, but which made my eyes moist the first time I heard it.

As the yarn runs a widow lived with her only son in a tumble-down shanty. One night after she had put him to bed a terrific downpour started. The water came through gaps in the warped shingles of the roof. One leak, directly above where the boy lay, spouted a stream directly down upon his small body.

The mother tried vainly to divert the flow away from him. Then an inspiration came to her. The night was stormy but it was not cold.

So she lifted the front door down off its hinges and propped it flat over the little fellow so that the drops splashed upon it instead of on him. From under his shelter he peeped out and asked:

"Mother, what do poor people do on a night like this without any door to put over them and keep off the rain?"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Thoughts while strolling: Collegiates on the loose. Yelling like Comanches. What's a radio evangelist? Fred Stone's daughter. A noticeable restraint in women's frocks. Skimpier. Whatever became of souvenir spoons?

And why do chefs wear those white caps? Crowds sweeping to a fight at the Garden. Who'll have a Horton? Wish I could get interested in that Hall-Mills murder. Revues that make skits of Pullman car smut. Chinese lucky stones. The big black cat near the Hippodrome.

Another reigning ingenue. Two dimples and a lot of luck. Those chubby proprietors of Tenderloin chop houses. Ashen women selling birth control tracts. The prick of a banjo in a hoofing school. Fattish women whose hair is streaked with many colors "sampling" beauty parlors.

French weeklies with the gaundy covers. Delicatessen dealers with white coat sleeves too long. Salads. Sliced cold pork. Onions. Pimentos. Dark upstairs rooming houses. Aproned women. Liver spotted faces. And the odor of stale grease.

A goldfish for $25. Baby wails. Chauffeurs picking their teeth. Slim little girls who stand shyly in doorways. Overcoats fastened at the throat with big brass pins. Toothless old ladies whose faces seem to fold up. So wags a world.

A gentleman who mixes his own gin gave a rather elaborate party in one of the decorative bazaars the other evening. He carried in advance numerous bottles of his concoction and "spiked" the gingerale generously. His guests drank one, two and three—and sat patiently waiting for an answer. The host himself was as much mystified. Finally he went into an anteroom and took a copious swig direct from the bottle. It was pure water. Discharged servants had several days before left him the surprise.

A Broadway bootery heralds: "Medusa wore them on her head. I put them on your feet"—which is the extravagant way of announcing reptilian effects of smart footwear. I also notice bags of ostrich skin—a diminutive sort of alligator skin and the slight lumps I assume to have been left when the plumes were plucked. Snake skin effects are also noticed in cane handles and in coverings for cigarette cases.

The passing of "Old Joe" the Broadway photographer removed a picturesque figure. He had $10,000 in the bank but would never pay more than 15 cents for a meal. More than 20 years ago he became obsessed with the idea that bodily bathing washed off the sparks of life and he never bathed after that. He lived a recluse among yellowing theatrical clippings, a few pigeons and his memories. He was once a bon vivant and favored patron of old Delmonico's. His sister had been the wife of the Brazilian envoy to Germany and he was a first nighter of distinction. He clung to Broadway to the last, being removed from one of its hotels to the hospital where he died.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Liquefying Coal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Liquefying coal, which makes possible the production of synthetic gasoline and other petroleum products, has been accomplished, thus recording another miracle in the program of modern science. Two German chemists, working along entirely different lines of experimentation, are said to have achieved substantially the same result.

One of them, Dr. Friedrich Bergius, has developed his process until it is now on a commercial basis and two plants for "berginizing" coal have been established that have a combined capacity of 1,000,000 barrels of gasoline and other motor fuels per year. Dr. Franz Fischer, the other chemist, while he is able to turn out gasoline that is just as synthetic as any of the gin or liquor that floods America in these prohibition days, has not as yet succeeded in getting his costs down to a point where his products can be marketed in competition with those of natural petroleum.

Many other chemists, in this country as well as abroad, are experimenting with the same end in view and it is promised that before the world's supply of petroleum is exhausted, the world will be assured of an ample supply of synthetic motor fuels that will cost little if any more than the fuels now used.

In fact, this experimenting has been going on for many years.

Dr. Bergius began his work more than thirteen years ago and it is claimed that he spent at least $6,000,000 to attain his end. For several years he had a staff of 150 assistants and employees working constantly under his direction. Dr. Fischer has been engrossed with the problem almost as long, and his experiments are said to have necessitated expenditures almost as heavy.

Few chemists have the financial resources or can get the backing to make it possible for them to carry on experiments on such a huge scale. Possibly that is why the Germans have succeeded where to date the others have not been able to report similar achievements.

There is no chemical formula for coal in general, as there is for water, alcohol, sugar, and various acids, because no two coals are alike. Bergius first collected samples of coal from all parts of the world and after he had studied them until he had learned all he could about coal, he decided to make coal in his laboratory, duplicating as far as possible the geological processes by which nature transforms wood into coal. He succeeded in producing several different kinds of coal, similar to those mined in various parts of the world, and after two years of such experiments he attacked the problem of making coal take up more hydrogen, which would transform it into liquid oil.

He first attempted to drive hydrogen at very high pressure into hot lumps of coal in a closed steel tank, but his product was nothing but coke because he had used too much heat. He saw that a way must be found to prevent overheating so that the hydogen would be taken up by the coal rapidly before coking resulted.

Accordingly he experimented with powdered coal, mixed with oil until it was a paste-like mess, and kept the temperature down to 800 degrees Fahrenheit. When he opened his tank he found a liquid that upon analysis proved to be motor oil.

In the commercial process as finally developed Bergius uses the cheapest grade of coal, and since he uses it in powdered form he buys screenings, which cost little, or cheap lignites or semicoals of no great value. Very little oil is required, and that is now taken from the oil produced by the plant itself. The mass in the steel containers is mechanically stirred while the hydrogen is forced in, and only a few hours are required to transform the mass into gas, liquefied coal, coal residue, and ashes. A dozen different products are condensed by careful cooling of the liquified coal. Pure hydrogen, which is expensive, is not required for the process, water-gas containing sufficient hydrogen for Bergius' purpose. The gas which is given off in the high pressure tanks is collected and sold for domestic or industrial uses, thus becoming a cost-reducing by-product.

Dr. Fischer in his experiments adopted the principle of making gasoline and fuel oils by combining carbon monoxyde gas with hydrogen. Carbon monoxide gas is generated from coal by the process used by every gas company. Fischer forced it and hydrogen into a steel container under high pressure and temperature,

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Industrial and motor stocks moved forward confidently in the early trading today under the leadership of United States steel, which exhibited an unusually firm tone for the period just prior to the publication of its monthly unfilled tonnage report. The low-priced motor shares, led by Hupp, Pierce Arrow and Dodge, sold higher, while the railroad "coalers" were active at Thursday's closing prices, with the exception of Mid-Continent oil stocks moved lower.

Call money renewals were posted at 4½ per cent. Commodity markets were slightly reactionary, with cotton and grain fractionally lower.

Lehigh Valley moved up 2½ to a new high at 138-8, while Atchison was boosted 2½ to 160; Atlantic Coast Line 2, and New York Central 2.

Buying of Mid-Continent oil was based on reports that the directors would soon restore the dividend on the common shares. Specialty stocks were under profit taking. Mercantile stocks continued to give a good account of themselves, with Montgomery Ward in the lead.

Crucible steel spurted to 81; in anticipation of an early announcement regarding an extra cash dividend.

TWO MEN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Nick Stewart, of the Hookstown road, near Chester, treasurer of the Rosenberg Dairy Products company, Wellsville, suffered a laceration to his forehead, while O. O. Allison, Chester, also employed at the same place, received a minor injury to his leg when a sedan driven by Stewart went over an embankment on the Calcutta-East Liverpool road, near the J. A. Bryan resident, at 6:30 o'clock last night.

Stewart was enroute south when he met C. H. Walker, St. Clair avenue, driving another sedan, coming north. Stewart's car skidded on the icy road, crashed into the Walker machine and then plunged over the embankment, overturning on its side.

Miller's ambulance was summoned, and Stewart was removed to the City hospital where he was attended by Dr. Albert J. Michels. He was discharged today. Allison returned to his home.

The McElravy wreck car removed the disabled machine, belonging to the dairy company, to a garage. Two fenders were demolished and the front axle bent.

Now every NEW EDISON is a FULL VOLUME Instrument

THOMAS A. EDISON has given owners of the New Edison all the advantages of his marvelous FULL VOLUME invention for the insignificant cost of a mere accessory. Your New Edison is just as modern as any phonograph; in fact, it is a distinct advancement—two phonographs in one. Living room and ball room volume! Variety, versatility, untiring charm! Your New Edison is twice as entertaining, twice as useful.

The transformation from modulated Re-Creation to FULL VOLUME is made as easily as changing a record. You're playing a snappy dance number for the bunch. Eager young feet are just "rarin' to go"—but you've found out before that the usual phonograph music hasn't volume enough to drown out the shuffling of feet—then you remember the DANCE ATTACHMENT—it takes just two shakes to slip it on in place of the regular reproducer. Oh boy! Hear that orchestra zipping it up, get that saxophone duet, listen to the traps, and can't that fellow pick a mean banjo?

You actually forget all about the Edison—you've got the orchestra right in your home. Let joy be unconfined. You can't lose this music. That's the combination of Edison tone quality and FULL VOLUME Re-Creation. Just this simple inexpensive attachment transforms your New Edison into a NEW-er music maker.

You can scarce believe it until you hear it. Demonstrations in our store every day. Come in now and hear it.

First Results Disappointing.

The first results were disappointing in that no gasoline or petroleum-like liquid was found in the container, but instead an oily mixture, which Fischer called synthol and which contained a number of alcohols, one of them being menthol, or wood alcohol. With alcohols derived from this synthol he found he could drive an automobile, and he claimed the fuel to be superior to gasoline because it did not "knock."

Dr. Fischer continued his experiments and at the recent international conference in Pittsburgh he was able to announce that he had at last succeeded in synthetizing from carbon monoxide and hydrogen practically all the oils, motor fuels, and liquids and solid compounds ordinarily derived from petroleum. Ultimately he expects to succeed in making these petroleum products on a commercial basis. He also makes the interesting prediction that the time will come when gas companies will make gasoline during their dull season in the summertime when there is not the demand for gas that there is during the cold months.

Aside from the efforts that are being made to liquefy coal, numerous chemists and engineers are experimenting with low temperature coking processes with the idea of perfecting processes for the utilization of bituminous coal to the maximum degree—extracting all its varied by-products and developing what will be the perfect coal fuel.

This perfect fuel will be better than anthracite, it is predicted, and will be like carbonized cakes of solid heat. It will be black, which will be its chief resemblance to coal. It will be smokeless, and it will be perfectly combustible, leaving no clinkers and little ashes. Being made in uniform sizes, the maximum quantity can be transported or stored in the minimum space.

In making it the principal by-product is coal tar, which is used in making innumerable things, ranging from dyes and medicines to perfumes and explosives, but so much of a ton of coal is turned into the tar that the present market can not absorb it. This means that the so-called perfect manufactured coal fuel can not be commercialized until the present uses of the tar have been greatly extended.

But that this problem will be solved is not doubted by scientists. Possibly a low cost method of "cracking" the tar into motor fuel will be evolved. Perhaps some solution as yet unthought of will be worked out.

from a drawer in the desk a bottle with about a teaspoonful of liquor in it, it being such a small amount that it was necessary to turn the bottle on its side for it to be plainly seen in the corner of the bottle. I asked the chief if that was all the evidence he had and he said it was. I asked him if Pugia was intoxicated or if he had any complaints about him selling intoxicating liquors, to both of which questions he answered, 'No.'

Pugia Denied Charge.

"Pugia then made the statement that even the small amount that was in the bottle was more than had been in it at the time it was taken from his home. The chief, at this point, having been standing back of me, started across the room toward Pugia and said:' —— —— you, Jim, you have told enough lies about me already.' At this point I stopped the chief saying, 'Here, we don't want any of that,' and again being told that the bottle contained all of the evidence, I said to Pugia, 'Jim, you are dismissed.'

"At this point Chief Fultz reached past me and picking up the bottle, which was introduced as evidence, from the desk, placed it in his pocket. I said, 'Put that bottle back on the desk.' Fultz said, 'I will not.' I again repeated the request for him to replace the bottle, saying 'I want you to understand that I am still the boss here and I am telling you to put that bottle back on the desk. The chief replied, 'I know you are the boss, mayor, but I will not put it back.'

"I then told the chief, 'You are suspended for disobeying orders; you are through; your authority is ended.'

"There was further conversation between the chief and myself in which I told him that I was tired of him bringing in cases where there was not over one or two spoonsful of liquor and expecting me to fine them for possessing liquor and I would not do it for him or anyone else. Further, that all he had been doing since his return to work was bending his efforts on getting something on the different people who had testified against him in his case at Lisbon.

Cause of Controversy.

"I stated that I was elected mayor on a platform in which I had promised the voters of Wellsville that I would be the boss at all times and from the votes I had received, which was a majority of all the votes cast, that what I had promised the people was evidently what they wanted and what they were expecting me to do. I further stated that I felt the majority of the voters who had elected me were far above the one man who had appointed him and who I thought was one of the dirtiest curs in the state.

"The entire controversy started after the chief had picked up the bottle which had been introduced as evidence and there were no words between the chief and myself prior to that time.

"When the police reported for duty Thursday evening the chief was handed his dismissal in writing, there being three charges: First—conduct unbecoming an officer; second—disrespect to your superior officer; third—disobeying orders given by a superior officer.

"After Fultz had left the city hall the mayor conferred with the police, telling them that if they knew of any law violators of any kind his instructions were as they had always been, that he wanted them brought in. The police were cautioned by the mayor about their actions with regard to private homes and that it was not his wishes that private homes be molested unless they had absolute information that there were liquor violations committed. In this connection he read an order of Governor Donahey's which was issued this year and which was as follows: 'No raids shall be made (on private homes) until after charges of illegal sales obtained from two reputable sources. Heretofore raids have been conducted upon receipt of anonymous notes and telephone calls.

"In conclusion it is my desire to thank the many friends who believe that this administration has been doing all in its power to conduct the city affairs in the best interest of all of the people.

"I am sure that the good people of Wellsville resent the actions of a little group of disgruntled politicians that have been doing everything in their power to cause discord and at every opportunity to hinder the present administration.

"My resolves today are the same with regard to city affairs as they were January 1, and I expect to continue in every way possible to represent the majority.

"Sincerely,

"WALLACE L. FOGO.

"Mayor.

BOND WINNER IN COURT TEST

John C. Bond, deposed state auditor, appeared yesterday before Judge H. K. Black in court at Charleston and demanded a bill of particulars of the 54 counts of embezzlement and larceny and got an agreement to furnish the information without a formal court order.

The formal demand for particulars, a 26-page document, was the subject of a lively argument in which Mr. George, prosecutive attorney, Attorney Frank C. Burdette and Assistant Attorney General R. A. Blessing took part. It asked whether the alternate embezzlement and larceny counts in indictment No. 1 referred to drafts or warrants alleged to have been drawn without authority, and if so for the name of the payee, the date and number of each warrant and the indorsements. Mr. George in offering it declared there was no desire to delay trial.

Mr. Burdette pointed out that the indictments itself was drawn under a statute permitting the naming of a series of alleged embezzlements within a period of six months.

Blessing argued that from the governor's hearings on the same charges Mr. Bond had full information of the details. Asked by Judge Black how the court had that information, Mr. Blessing said it was a matter of public knowledge that Mr. Burdette's uggestion that the particulars would be forthcoming if Mr. Bond would make affidavit that he did not have the information resulted in speedy argument whereby the formal demand was withdrawn and the prosecutor promised to furnish the details as to the warrants involved in each count.

Sainor and Robinson Lead League Batteries In Base Hits

'Lefty's' Comeback As Hurler In Second Half Is Big Feature

Veteran Southpaw Recovers Form When He Joins Old Batterymate and Stickwork Improves Simultaneously; Pair are Pushed for Honors by Mike Cebula and Potts.

Regarded among the feature achievements of the past City Industrial League Baseball season was the comeback of "Lefty" Sainor, as a pitcher, in the second half of the campaign.

The veteran southpaw found himself when his old catcher, Robinson, went behind the bat. Even his hitting, fine as it previously had been—.382 in the initial period—reached .388 in the final scrimmages. Consequently he finished with an average of .386, just four points behind Robinson. Some battery that- And the hardest hitting combination in the circuit. The figures show it .386 and .382 respectively.

The next heaviest swatting pitcher and catcher would be Mike Cebula and Potts, of Chester, with .375 and .339 respectively. The latter would qualify with .907 and .985 each against Robinson's 1.000 and Sainor's .884.

Mike Cebula batted, despite his many appearances in the pitchers' box, just 14 points below McShane, just .25 shy of Eddie Bayley's mark and .56 below that of Hen Strobel. Indeed, Cebula, in 12 games of the second half batted .464, as against .293 in 14 contests of the first half. He was thus but eight points below his brother P. Cebula, who was also in 12 contests of the final intermin of play.

The record of Davis, of Wellsville and Victory Motors, also stood out. Here was a player who, reputed fast on his feet and a good fielder, was held to be weak with the stick. Yet he finished with .417 while in fielding his mark was .750. Davis hit .363 while with Wellsville in the first and .286 in the single contest of the first interim with Victory Motor, to which club he was traded, which gave him an average of .333 for that period. In the second he batted at a .467 clip, the whole giving him a mark of .417 for the season.

"Chappie" Finley, who in days ago was wont to lead the circuit in numerous departments of play, concluded with a mark of .358. His hitting improved 56 points in the second half when he swatted .389 as against .333 in the first.

Wilde, of Chester, qualified as among the league's best hitters with .369 for the season. Hower, he fell off 58 points in the second period when he clouted .33 instead of his .391 at the outset of play.

The heaviest hitting catcher for both seasons of play was Potts, of Chester, with .339. He, too, failed to connect as well in the second half when he made .281, in comparison to his .407 of the first section. Potts lost greatly by the throwing out of the game with K. T. K. on June 15 when he batted 1.000 with three hits in three times up. These would have given him .371 for the year.

Perhaps the greatest gain by any player in the league in hitting was made by Stoffel after being traded to Chester by K. T. K. at the beginning of the second half when he smote the ball at .438 as against his mark of .161 with the potters. The difference is .277 points. In the second half he was in 11 games and the first, nine games. His grand total was .294 for the year, just six points below the charmed circle.

Reed, of Wellsville, had the only perfect batting record, but he was in only one game. Meyers, of K. T. K., in nine contests, led the .500 class with .579; Wolfe, of Wellsville, in one game, the .400 delegation with .441; E. Bayley, the .300 contingent with .392; L. McMath the .200 section with .295; Kinsey of K. T. K., the .100 department with .188 while those below the century mark were topped by Ashe, of Laughlin, with .067.

Of the league leaders of past years, Buzzard, of Victory Motors, was in but five games of the second half in which he batted an even .500; Finley, of Laughlin, made .358 in 39 contests; W. Mundy .350 in 25; Simcox, of K. T. K., .318 in 27, and Herbert, Turk-Nash, .281 in 32.

Evans, of Chester, gained in his second half hitting when he made .365 in 18 games as against .259 in 11 contests of the first, a difference of 106 points.

Greene, of Chester, dropped from .279 in the first to .206 in the second. He was in but 12 games of the second half, and 21 in the first.

Les McMath hit for a mark of .302 in the second, improving greatly over his .288 of the first half. He, too, lost two hits in the game with K. T. K., thrown out which probably would have kept him above the .300 mark in the first half. He finished with .295.

WATERBURG, Conn., Dec. 10.—Jack Delaney, world's light heavyweight champion, will make his first start under colors in some months tonight when he meets Jamaica Kid, veteran negro boxer, in a fifteen round bout to a decision. If the negro makes the limit of 175 pounds, Delaney's title will be at stake.

According to word from the champion's camp, Jack has been unable to get below 179 pounds and must make heroic sacrifices if he is to save his weight forfeit of $2,500.

BAPTISTS COP OVERTIME GAME

Down Parks, 30-29, in Second Extra Period.

IN one of the most sensational contests of the league to date, the Baptists won a close decision over the Park Boulevards last night in a Church loop clash at the M. E. court, two overtime periods being necessary to determine the outcome. The final count was 30-29.

The Baptists led at the half, 18 to 15 but the count was knotted at 29-all at the end of the game. In the first overtime period, neither side scored.

The Parks were given two great opportunities on a foul try and a field goal that was missed and then Orval Parsons of the Baptists dropped in the foul that clinched the game.

The Christians and the Presbyterians will play the first game, beginning at 7:30 tomorrow night on the 'Y" court, followed by the Lutherans and Methodists.

Panthers Set New Attendance Mark In 1926 Campaign

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—A new record for football attendance in the trans-Allegheny Mountain section was established this season by the University of Pittsburgh, according to the figures made public here today by the graduate manager's office. The nine games played by the Panthers were watched by a total of 257,000 persons, or an average of slightly more than 28,000 at each game. This is believed to be one of the highest averages of any school in the country.

The establishment of the new record was made possible by the splendid weather which marked each Saturday here during the season. After the opening game with Allegheny college, which was played in a driving rain, every Saturday brought with it sunny skies.

A similar mark might have been made a year ago when Pitt opened its new stadium had it not been that rain fell every day during the fall.

The attendance for each game this season follows:

Allegheny, 12,000; Georgetown, 20,000; Lafayette, 30,000; Colgate, 20,000; Carnegie Tech, 40,000; Westminster, 10,000; West Virginia, 30,000; W. & J., 45,000; Penn State, 50,000.

EKLUND KEEPS HIS MAT TITLE

'PRO' NET GAME TO BE RAPPED

Association Will Release Legislative Broadside.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Professional tennis, the bugaboo of all gentlemen who parade behind the band wagon of the United States Lawn Tennis association as a labor of love, probably will come in for a legislative broadside tomorrow when the association's executive committee will convene in all its annual displeasure over matters in general. Publicly, the committee is likely to treat the so-called professional menace with profound and depressing silence.

In this way, it will plainly indicate that a condition which divorced it from Mlle. Lenglen, Vincent Richards, Howard Kinsey, Mary Browne and others during a single season is beneath its notice. Then, under cover of the locked door and the plugged keyhole, it will prove its indifference by enacting such legislation as it thinks will cramp the style of those who would make lawn tennis a gainful occupation.

I do not seem to understand just how a resolution is to alter the impression, entertained by some ill-informed individuals, that you can buy more loaves of bread with a dollar than you can with a loving cup. Still, the boys must resolute about something and there seems to be a general tendency, here and elsewhere, to view this particular situation with alarm.

The British, for example, will adopt on Monday, a re-written rule, which they say will "clearly define the amateur." The writer seems to remember that that was done some years ago by a man of great persnicacy. He characterized an amateur as a guy who wouldn't take a check.

However, the English say they have put what they are pleased to call "teeth" in their resolution and now I presume that there will be nothing left for C. C. Pyle but an arid and comfortless old age. He might take up the profession of dentistry, however.

Similar action, it is whispered, will be taken by the executive committee tomorrow. Then its deliberations will be duly read into the activities at the annual meeting in February, after which Charley Pyle will be given 24 hours in which to leave the country, change his name or shave the left side of his lip.

Meantime, official tennis circles are rife with assurances that competition in professional tennis is many years removed. It is claimed that not more than four men in this country, outside of Richards, Kinsey, Snodgrass and Paul Feret, can give a respectable exhibition in public and they refer to George Agutter's apostolic trip abroad as meaningless. No, they say, professional tennis can't hope for a foothold in America for some years.

That probably is the reason that tomorrow may inspire the executive committee to draft a rule, forbidding an amateur to play against a professional or of otherwise engaging in a technically outlaw competition on the plea that it did not constitute a match.

Huggins Seeks Player.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Miller Huggins admitted today that the New York Yankees were in the market for an infielder, an outfielder and two pitchers and that pending deals for the men in question might be completed at the American league meeting in Chicago next week. The outfielder was to come from a minor league club, Huggins asserted.

Yankee players who might be involved, according to unofficial estimates, were Aaron Ward, Joe Dugan, Bob Shawkey and Sam Jones.

Two Scrimmage Sessions at "Y" Gym Last Night Provide Plenty of Action; More Work Scheduled Today and Tomorrow.

TWO squads of prospective Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league performers went through the paces last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium under the watchful eye of Coach William Powell, director of the quint that will wear the colors of the East Liverpool Elks in the cage race that is scheduled to start next week.

"Bus" Crawford and Smith Anderson, two other members of the outfit, were unable to report for last night's workout.

Clark, Wain, Wilson and McDevitt were used at forwards, with Canne and Howard at the pivot posts. McConville, Hamilton, Reese, Hogue and Salsbury performed at the guards.

No signals were used and no effort was made to carry out any predesignated mode of performance. The present workouts, according to Powell, will serve to work out the stiffness, improve "wind," and give the "shots" an opportunity to limber up their wrists and arms for future marksmanship.

The squad will drill again at noon today, it was planned, with another session tomorrow afternoon.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 61 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

"Huddle" Invades Court Game

The "huddle" system, employed of recent years in football, may be taken up by basketball teams this season, judging by the report from Princeton that the Tiger five may use it. Plays from the toss-up will be mapped out after each basket. Photo shows the Princeton five in a huddle.

Seven Conference Contests Dated on Wooster Grid Card

WOOSTER, Dec. 10.—The 1927 football schedule for the Wooster college team calls for seven Ohio conference games and the usual opener with Ashland at Wooster on October 1.

For the first time in many years Wooster and Denison will not meet. It was impossible for the two teams to arrange a satisfactory date. It is hoped that the two schools will play again in 1928. Heidelberg at Tiffin replaces Denison.

The schedule calls for Case, Mount Union and Oberlin for the home games and Reserves at Cleveland, Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware and Akron at Akron for the other out of town games.

Wooster's schedule:
October 1. Ashland at Wooster.
October 8. Mt. Union at Wooster.
October 15. Heidelberg at Tiffin.
October 22. Case at Wooster.
October 29. Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware.
November 5. Reserve at Cleveland.
November 12. Oberlin at Wooster.
November 19. Akron at Akron.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

THE post season argument as to which grid eleven was the outstanding one—the national champion—of the campaign of 1926 is now on in full blast. Name you own candidate.

I offer, however, seven teams for consideration.

Quite obviously a team must be scored upon to be defeated. The seven toughest elevens in the country to score against were:

Alabama.
U. of Pennsylvania.
Northwestern.
Carnegie Tech.
New York University.
Notre Dame.
Lafayette.

Alabama University, playing a majority of the powerful elevens of the south, if not all, scored 212 points while permitting its opponents to score just 20. A total of three touchdowns was registered against the Tuscaloosa team. Vanderbilt, Mississippi A. and M. and Georgia each crossed the goal line once. Eewanee was the only opponent to prevent the Alabama team from registering a touchdown or more.

Pennsylvania permitted its opponents just the same number of points—20—while piling up 204. John Hopkins score one touchdown against the Penn team and Cornell one. Illinois and Cornell booted field goals. Two touchdowns permitted in a single season is a proud achievement for any team.

Northwestern permitted its opponents to score three touchdowns and a total of 22 points. Notre Dame, Chicago and Iowa each crossed the goal line once. Carlton scored a field goal. Meanwhile Coach Thistlethwaite's team piled up 178 points against its rivals, which included Notre Dame, Purdue, Chicago and Iowa.

Carnegie Tech had been overlooked, perhaps, until it pounced on Notre Dame but the Steffen's men permitted but 23 points to be tallied against them all season. W. and J. whipped them 17 to 6 early in the season and New York U. has nosed out a victory 6 to 0. The Tech team, over the entire campaign, scored 187 points.

New York University, plowing through the season without a defeat until nicked by Nebraska, permitted its rivals to tally just 25 points while scoring 172. Chick Meehan's team held scoreless Carnegie Tech—the team which later scored 19 points against Notre Dame. Nebraska scored 15 of the 25 points. Fordham and West Virginia Wesleyan tallied the rest.

Fight Results

Rockford, Ill., Court Clerk Arrested at Ashtabula, Ohio

ASHTABULA, O., Dec. 10.—Henry Rasmussen, whose term of office as clerk of the probate court at Rockford, Ill., expired last Tuesday, was arrested here yesterday and is being held pending the arrival of Illinois officers.

Rasmussen at first gave the name of H. Russell. In his pockets, police say, were various clippings from Rockford papers which told of alleged shortages in the probate clerk's accounts. He told newspapermen that he had come to Ashtabula for the purpose of applying for the position of city manager and denied any irregularities existed in his accounts.

Mellett's "True Friend" is Excused From Jury Duty

COURT HOUSE, CANTON, O., Dec. 10.— "true friend" of the murdered Don R. Mellett yesterday asked to be excused from jury duty during the trial of Patrick E. McDermott because he "knew and admired" the slain man.

"He was my friend, I could not listen impartially to the evidence in this case."

"Perhaps I am prejudiced—but I knew Mellett," he added later.

He was excused from duty.

Flood Spares Bible and Radio.

When Mr. and Mrs. George H. Thompson of Leroy, Kan., returned to their home after a flood they found everything innundated excepting the family Bible and the radio set. The book and receiving set were side by side on a little table which floated with the floor waters and stayed right side up with remarkable equilibrium. The Bible was not even wet.

The ENTERTAINING ANGEL

By SAMUEL MERWIN

By Samuel Merwin Released Through Central Press Assn

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO.

But a pause came. The final scenes of the piece had to be played at the rear of the stage. Feeling the silence, Julian turned.

Murry Watt was looking at him, and now advanced to the steps that gave down from the front of the stage to the lower forestage just above the ground.

"My dear friend," he said, smiling in his expansive way, "I fear we shall have to trouble you."

"Oh, certainly!" cried Julian and descended the stepladder; hurrying to remove it. But he stumbled at the ladder, threw it off balance. It appeared about to fall on Hester. Julian sprang ineffectually after it, but Joe, quicker than he, caught it.

"Snappy work, Marceline!" he said, guardedly, and then carried the ladder offstage at the side. Julian hesitated, while the slow color rose in his cheeks. He saw Sadie, standing on the ground, had parted the side curtains and was looking at him. She had to move aside for Joe to pass. Hester, unaware of her momentary danger, had run down the front steps to speak to the director.

"Snappy work, Marceline."

Julian moved, quickly then, after the boy. He leaped to the ground. They were hidden there from those on the stage and in front. Joe was setting down the ladder on the ground. He turned, and found Julian standing rigidly before him.

"Just one moment!" said Julian, in a low, deliberate voice. "Just one moment!" Sadie hardly a yard away, felt a curious touch of unreality in him. He had never looked more the sensitive poet. "He's acting," she thought. "He's all nerved up to this, making himself do it. The poor boy;"

Joe chuckled in frank insolent amusement. Then he would have brushed by. The arrogance of the undisciplined young actor, flushed with discriminating praise, shone in his eyes. But Julian blocked the steps.

"Just one moment!" Sadie could have cried out. Was he going to utter that meaningless phrase a fourth time? Already, if he had healthy anger to show, he had waited too long. That kind of thing must be instant to be sound. Heaven knew Julian had authority enough. Money is authority. Why didn't he use his real strength?

Glenn Drake, Popular Tenor, In Concert Here Tuesday

Glenn Drake, popular tenor, who will appear at the Ceramic theatre Tuesday evening in a Civic Music society concert, believes that an artist's duty to the public transcends all else.

"It is no more than right," said he, "when the public are paying their good money to hear you, to give them the very best that is in you. You never can tell who will be in your audience. It may be that some important manager is passing through and goes to hear you out of curiosity. His opinion of your work is formed then, and not by anything you may do later, so it is never safe to slight your audience.

"The first, and to my mind, the most important requirement in keeping fit is plenty of sleep and relaxation, and I see to it that I have both. Simple food and plenty of exercise is the thing, and with these precepts in mind you need never disappoint an audience, for if you follow them, you will be healthy and wise, to paraphrase the old saying.

Often I am asked, 'When do you do your best work? How to you keep your voice in condition?' My answer is "routine." I have a certain schedule and stick to it. I spend my mornings in scale practice to keep the voice flexible. In the afternoon my accompanist comes at a certain hour and we go over my songs and work on any special program that I may be preparing to sing.

"One hour each day I devote to the study of languages for it is important, if you are singing French, German or Italian, not only to be able to pronounce the words correctly, but to be familiar enough with the language to understand the meaning of the text. It is astonishing what you can accomplish in an hour, if you are consistent and keep at it every day. I have a fair understanding of the three languages and can speak them, and I have done that by giving an hour each day to it.

"If I am going to sing, I manage to get through with my routine early and then go to a movie, for there you can be quiet and yet your mind has a distraction. My art means everything to me, and I would not feel satisfied to let even a day go by without adding something to my store."

Rose Tree 1,000 Years Old.

At Hildesheim, Germany, is a rose tree covering one side of the parish yard, that by the records of the church is over a thousand years old The roots are visble in the crypt of the church and the church records tells of the pruning, trimming and care of the tree over the long period.

Spent Fortune in Search

"I spent $1,800 in seven years treating with physicians, some specialists costing me $10 a visit, only to at last say nothing could be done for me, that I had cancer or ulcers of the stomach. I suffered awful pains in my stomach, but after taking a few doses of MAYR'S these all disappeared and for three years am feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church of East Liverpool, will be the principal speaker at a banquet to be given to the men of the Christian church of Lisbon in the dining room of the church on Friday evening the banquet to be served by the ladies of the church at 6:30 o'clock. Hughes, of Zanesville, present Grand Master of Ohio, and representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Ohio, and Henry A. Armstrong, of Hazelton, N. D., Past Grand Master of North Dakota.

Bradford, of Washington, D. C., Grand Sire of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., the highest officer of the lodge in the world. Mr. Bradford will speak during the evening to the Odd Fellows at the Stambaugh auditorium. A 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a parade.

It has been announced that the assemble place for the subordinate lodge will be the Trinity M. E. church, the Rebekahs to assemble at the First Baptist church, and the Patriarch Militants at the Odd Fellows Temple.

DAMAGE SUIT IS INSTITUTED

Alden Edgar West, 10, son of Frank West, of Columbiana, has commenced an action in the common pleas court here against the Bixler Baking company of Youngstown, for $725 damages.

The Youngstown company, it is stated, delivers bread and other baked goods in Columbiana each day by truck, and on the 9th of last June as young West was riding his bicycle down South Main street, the Bixler truck it is alleged backed out from the curb in front of the Frederick building, and collided with the boy and the bicycle.

It is claimed that the lad was badly injured about the back and legs, ligaments and nerves being torn, twisted and lacerated, to the extent that he has not yet recovered.

SALEM ATTORNEYS GIVEN JUDGMENT

Galen Scattergood, as administrator of the estate of the late W. W. Scattergood of Salem, failed to appear in common pleas court Thursday when the case of Metzger & McCarthy of that city against him as administrator was called for trial, so Judge W. F. Lones directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $254.21 and costs. The law firm of Metzger & McCarthy filed the action some time ago against the estate to recover judgment against the Scattergood estate for the amount for which judgment was rendered, claiming that it was due them for work and labor along the line of their profession.

Silk Worms Outdone by Wood.

An artificial silk made from wood is being produced in greater quantity now than that of the silk worms over a given period. In one year 150,000,000 pounds of this artificial silk made from wood alone exceeded the production of real silk by all the silk worms.

EL PASO IS ONLY CITY OF 110,000 HAVING BUT 100 FRAME DWELLINGS

EL PASO, Texas.—No other city in Texas and only a few in the United States as large as El Paso can boast a population of 110,000 persons with only slightly more than 100 frame buildings within its limits.

And while El Paso, being a resort city, is swarming with apartment houses and family hotels, it contains more than 17,000 residences.

The reason for the absence of frame houses in El Paso is directly due to the inability many years ago to get lumber and the availability of brick in plenty. The predominance of brick buildings further was augmented in 1917 when the city council passed an ordinance banning erection of frame structures within the city limits.

Perhaps this rigid legislation has re-acted unfavorably on Texas lumber-men but it certainly has been profitable to the city in reduction of annual fire losses.

El Paso stands seventh in the United States in low annual fire loss. During the last nine years annual toll has averaged approximately $150,000.

In addition to what it saves property owners, the ordinance has saved the city large sums of money in maintenance of a large fire department. Seven fire stations with a personnel of 95 employes and 12 apparatus serve El Paso and the upper and lower Rio Grande valley over an area of probably 20 square miles. And until recently the El Paso department has answered calls in Juarez, Mexico across the river.

The frame houses now in the city were erected either before the ordinance was passed or were taken into the city by annexation. The small number of frame structures slowly is dwindling as fires consume a number of them each year and brick and stucco edifices replace them in compliance with the ordinance provisions.

She Teaches Snakes to Drill.

Miss Nora Wilkins, of Powell county, Kentucky, is a snake catcher by vocation and she makes a good living out of the job. She is only twenty-three years old, and she has caught and sold some rare specimens to circuses, zoological gardens and private collectors. She has, at her home, six snakes which she has taught to crawl in drill formation.

Cromwell's Watch Stolen.

Scotland Yard officials in London are investigating the mysterious disappearance of Oliver Cromwell's watch from the London museum. The timepiece is a fine piece of workmanship, ovoid in shape and with only one hand. On the dial, which is silver, is a view of the spires of Worcester cathedral and two browsing rabbits.

Bird's Bones Carry Air.

The bones of all flying birds are said to be hollow and filled with air, thus showing that nature knew what it was about when it designed them for the air. This plan, as any physicist will confirm, makes for not only lightness but for the greatest strength. A solid bone besides being heavier, would be less strong against strain such as a flying fowl is put to.

Deputy State Fire Marshal to Probe Columbus Blazes

COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—Effort will be made today by Deputy State Fire Marshal Frank G. Henry to determine the origin of the fire which ruined the storeroom of the MacDonald shop for women, 50 North High street, and three shops in the Powell building, 19-23 East Gay street, besides destroying the Powell building here Wednesday.

Revised estimates placed the total loss at about $200,000.

The F. G. and A. Howald furniture company, Dunlap shoe company and the Bradford-Husch company, adjoining stores, sustained losses totaling several thousand dollars, due to smoke and water.

AUTO CLUB MEN AT STATE MEET

R. B. Rutledge, Chester, president, and E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Hancock County Motor club, have returned from Bluefield, W. Va., where they attended the annual meeting of the West Virginia Automobile club. The former was re-elected a member of the board of trustees.

The organization went on record as favoring the plan of distribution of automobile license plates now in effect in Ohio, and will urge the legislature at its next session to enact legislation providing for local stations. The association also approved the uniform national traffic code which was drafted at a conference called recently by Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Six states have already adopted this code.

The state highway commission will be urged to complete the marking of the main highways in the state with the uniform federal marking system adopted last year.

South Dakota Site For Summer White House is Offered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—An 80,000-acre tract of land in the Black Hills of South Dakota, and a lodge containing 80 rooms, were offered yesterday to President Coolidge as a site for next summer's White House.

A delegation of South Dakotians, headed by Senator McMaster and W. C. Lust, of the state chamber of commerce, called at the White House and proffered the estate, which is known as Custer Park, and lies about 30 miles from Rapid City.

The president is interested in it, but did not commit himself.

ANNUAL RUSH FOR AUTO TAGS

About 5,000 class A automobile licenses are expected to be issued by the road commission between now and the end of the rush at the first of the year. There is but 18 more working days until the first of the year and since the applications for the plates are coming in slowly the usual eleventh hour stampede upon the automobile department is expected. The department issued a warning to owners to "apply early and avoid the rush," which really fits the case, it was said.

Mail applications are coming in more rapidly than last year, owing to the simplicity of the arrangement, it was said. It is only necessary o sign a blank and return it with the required fee.

A total of 194,000 plates were made by the road commission but the number to be issued is likely to fall several thousands short of that, it was said.

Corn Borer Ban Likely.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Ohioans Will Seek Fund to Construct Giant Dirigible

AKRON, O., Dec. 10.—Ohio senators and representatives will seek an appropriation from the present congress with which to construct an airship of 6,500,000 cubic feet capacity, it became known here today.

Such a dirigible would be three times as large as the ill-fated Shenandoah.

Two such ships already have been authorized by the government and plans prepared by Zeppelin experts employed by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, have been submitted for approval by federal agencies.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

Society and politics in the national capital are considerably mixed.

Many a legislator's, many an official's good will is won, in behalf of policies or measures he wouldn't otherwise favor, by a little social taffy which he doesn't care so much for, maybe, but for which his women folk have an inordinate fondness.

It isn't the big blow-outs that count. Anybody can get invitations to all the cold-blooded formal functions. A White House reception is about as public as the lobby of the Union depot. Social secretaries make up the guest lists for such affairs out of the Congressional Directory.

Admission to the inner circle—to the intimate little parties, dinners, teas and salons, with only a dozen or so of the really elite apiece in attendance—that's what signifies.

CONGRESSMAN and Mrs. So-and-so lunched at the White House today.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon entertained a small party at dinner last evening. The guests were——

The following were entertained over the week-end on the presidential yacht Mayflower——

To get your name into an occasional paragraph such as any one of these, in the society columns of the Washington newspapers is what sets the seal of gentility upon your reputation among the capital's socially elect.

HOW much weight President Coolidge places upon social considerations may be judged from the fact that he refused to permit the White House to be under repairs this winter, though competent engineers warned him that there really is serious danger that the roof may fall in on him.

He'd take his chance until congress adjourns, he decided, rather than go into temporary quarters, where the atmosphere of the executive mansion would be lacking from the senatorial breakfast, the luncheons to prominent visitors and the dinners to leading statesmen and their wives which he plans for the current "season."

Nobody ever accused the present president of being a social butterfly from any choice of his own, but he can flutter a bit—as a moth, anyway—for political advantage.

VICE PRESIDENT DAWES will do some formidable fluttering. He has presidential aspirations. He needs all the friends he can make, among the party leaders. There's no better way of making them than over his own dinner table.

Speaker Longworth has presidential aspirations, too, and he and his wife are great entertainers. They don't entertain ostentatiously, but they entertain with unsurpassed elegance and are ultra-exclusive. An invitation to the Longworths' is regarded as a tremendous asset—social and political. They may not be quite so exclusive this winter as hitherto. At any rate, they moved into a larger house some time ago, in a nobbier quarter than previously.

Secretary of State Kellogg, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover are noted for their small but swell parties.

It's very classy to have the entree to the larger embassies.

Even Washington's unofficial society is semi-political. Not many families in the upper register live here which haven't political interests. At all events, they like to mingle, on terms of equality, with the political big guns' families.

The social "season" promises to be unusually lively in Washington. There are signs of an exceptionally exciting session of congress. The latter generally means the former. When votes are needed, on the "hill," those who need them hold that there's no surer way of winning them than by means of social attention to the individuals who'll cast them—and their women folk.

Blackstone Opens Three-Day Engagement at Ceramic

A hundred new and mystifying feats of illusion, representing the highest achievement in the magician's art, are part of the long program of rapid fire entertainment and bewildering amusement that is offered by Blackstone, the world's foremost magician, who opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre last night.

He will also give a special matinee Saturday.

Blackstone's uncanny and remarkable performance is more than mere entertainment as it excites and stimulates the beholder by appealing to his keen intelligence, challenging him to detect the manner and means by which the feats are accomplished. For this reason it is not unusual to see among his audiences scientists, professors, students, and clergymen as well as hundreds of men, women and children from all walks of life who are content to be mystified and amused,—even as you and I.

His present production is a veritable triumph in artistic presentation and beautiful design, comprising tons of magic paraphernalia and a carload of special scenery in addition to a company of twenty-five artists and assistants. Some of the illusions and miracles that have helped to make him the world's greatest living entertainer, will be repeated in his present program as well as several entirely new and novel effects.

Blackstone stands alone as the peer of wizards, for he induces the occult powers of nature to produce the most baffling and incomprehensible of illusions with amazing ease and unconcern. He has a wonderful pair of hands, and the dexterity with which he manipulates his marvelous tricks of sleight-of-hand and legerdemain leaves you in a maze of bewilderment.

Per Capita Money For Yule Shopping In U. S. is $42.62

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — The Christmas shopping period finds approximately $4,949,247,000 in circulation in the United States, the treasury announced today.

Money circulation is somewhat less than last year when the per capita figure was $43.35 compared to $42.62 on this December.

Total money stock of the country, including that held by the government and federal reserve banks, was $8,485,116,000 on December 1, a gain of $140,000,000 from the same date last year.

The treasury estimated the population December 1 at 116,114,000, an increase of 1,419,000 in the year.

Here they are—hundreds of them—all the latest hits, all the old favorites. Waiting to entertain you! We want you to hear the new Victor Releases. They are better than ever. Come in and hear them. Davis, Burkham & Tyler's Music Store.

Denmark Ousts Executioner.

Herman Christensen, of Copenhagen, the only official executioner in Denmak, has been relieved of his job which he has held for more than 20 years. The reason given for the act was that it did not seem reasonable to keep him longer "on probation" for the reason that in all that time he has not been called on to officiate.

Accordion To Be Honored.

Paris is soon to observe the anniversary of the invention of the accordion which, as a popular musical instrument in its present form, was invented about 1826. Charles Buffet, a musical instrument dealer in Paris, was the inventor. A centennary program of considerable proportions has been worked out.

Hongkong proposes to tax all radio receiving sets at the same rate as for wireless telegraph stations, which is $2.50 a year.
